Boy, 3, Is Saved From Drowning

If some of James Peterson's Independent-Journal customers in Corte Madera received their papers late yesterday, it was because James stopped to save a life.

The 12-year-old I-J carrier boy was on his delivery route near his home at Marin Trailer Court, 2130 Redwood Highway, when he saw an arm waving above the three-foot-deep water of a slough behind the court.

James left his bike and ran to the water's edge. He pulled out 3-year-old Charles Kelly Jr., who also lives in the court.

"Charles would have drowned if Jimmy hadn't seen him and pulled him out," said Mrs. Charles Kelly Sr. today.

"Jimmy whacked my boy on the back a few times and a lot of water came out, but Charles was all right when Jimmy brought him home."

Young Peterson arrived at his own home nearby, soaking wet to above the waistline, and changed clothes before completing his route, reported his mother, Mrs. William Peterson.

James said the Kelly boy was completely submerged except for his hand above the water. He estimated the water depth at between three and four feet.

"He was all right when I got him out," said James. "He didn't seem to have swallowed any water. I guess he knew enough to keep his mouth closed."

George Bertram, owner of the trailer court, said children are warned to stay away from the slough but "they play there all the time."

Mrs. Jacqueline Castro, assistant manager, said the court has a rule that children must stay in fenced yards around their trailers.

Mrs. Kelly said the whole slough area should be fenced to protect the children.

James, a seventh grader at Neil Cummins School, has been deliveringt he I-J for about two years. His father is employed at the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads office in San Francisco.

James was very matter-of-fact about the rescue. But Charlie Kelly has a new hero today.

Pilot Dies, Passenger Lives In Crash At Drake's Estuary

First Plane Safe; Clam-Digging Spot

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A 63-year-old Healdsburg pilot was killed but his passenger survived the crash of a light plane on a sandbar inside the entrance of Drake's Estuary near Point Reyes at dusk yesterday.

High tide and darkness delayed recovery of the body of Harold R. McClish, a prune rancher, until 9:35 a.m. today.

McClish's plane, a green and red Piper Pacer, was one of two which landed on the sandbar at 4 p.m. yesterday. The spot is a favorite landing place for flying clam diggers.

The other plane was piloted by Milton Young, 39, also a Healdsburg rancher. At about 4:40 p.m., fog began moving in and both pilots decided it would be wise to fly back to their home field, the Sonoma County Airport.

Young took off first, with McClish and his passenger, Condido Morales, 20, of Healdsburg, right behind. According to witnesses, McClish's plane was about 50 feet off the ground when it faltered and fell, striking first on the right wing and then flipping over.

"I can't tell what made it fall," Kenneth Paris of Petaluma, another clam digger, said.

Dredge Hits Line, Cutting Power From E. Marin Area

A dredge on Richardson Bay hit an overhead 60,000-volt power line today and cut electric power all the way from Hamilton Air Force Base to Sausalito and Tiburon.

Leonard O. Robertson, electric superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said power to some localities was restored almost immediately by automatic switching to other sources, but to some—including Hamilton, it was out 35 minutes or more.

The Associated Dredging Co. working for Alcan-Marin Ltd. on its development on the edge of the bay, was brought in at high tide, a PG&E spokesman reported. Its boom failed to pass beneath the power line.

The 60,000-volt line and two others were cut at 9:55 a.m.

Lights flickered in San Rafael, were off two to five minutes in Corte Madera.

In Mill Valley and Tiburon, power was restored at 10:25 a.m. Robertson said. In Sausalito and at Hamilton, it was back about 10:30 a.m.

PG&E faced a difficult task in replacing the line across the bay. Workers prepared to draw lines across by boat, then raise them to the tops of the towers.

Sen. Murphy Demands Bank Accounting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., bluntly demanded an accounting of circumstances leading to failure last week of the San Francisco National Bank, as federal officials ordered the bank's door reopened today to pay off insured depositors.

Murphy was one of five members of the California congressional delegation to make inquiries of Comptroller of the Currency James J. Saxon.

The senator said such closings "serve to destroy public confidence in all financial institutions."

He asked whether opening two new branches played a part in the failure, if there were substantial last minute withdrawals, whether questionable interest rates helped attract $20 million in temporary deposits, and whether officers of the bank had been thoroughly investigated.

Other queries came from Rep. Del Clawson, R, who said: "This has an impact on all of us"; Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R, and Reps. Burt L. Talcott, R, and Phillip Burton, D.

Doors were reopened today during normal banking hours by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. It insures deposits up to $10,000 and is in control of the institution.

Murphy also asked Saxon specifically:

"Did the approval of branches for the bank play any part in the subsequent bankruptcy?

"Is there any evidence of sub-

Succession Action Urged Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas deB. Katzenbach urged Congress today to act without delay to put into the Constitution provisions to assure continuity in executive leadership.

He testified before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee in support of a proposed constitutional amendment providing for filling vice-presidential vacancies and procedures under which, in case of presidential disability, the vice president would take over as acting president.

Katzenbach, nominated by President Johnson yesterday to be attorney general, said the measure "represents as formidable a consensus of considered opinion on any proposed amendment to the Constitution as one is likely to find."

Katzenbach, the Senate subcommittee's first witness, said he understands that 47 state legislatures will be in fession this year.

The proposed amendment was introduced in the Senate early this month by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., with 75 other senators as cosigners. And in the House it is being sponsored by the chairman and top GOP member of the Judiciary Committee.

One part provides that if a vacancy occurs in the office of vice president it shall be filled by presidential appointment subject to the approval of a majority in both the Senate and the House.

The other part of the proposed amendment establishes procedures under which the vice president would take over as acting president in case the president is unable to discharge the duties of his office.

The Senate approved the amendment by a 65-0 vote last Sept. 29, but no action was taken by the House before Congress adjourned.

The President also called for another constitutional amendment to wipe out what he termed the ever present possibility that presidentiap electors "may substitute their own will for the will of the people."

In presidential elections Americans cast their votes for electors who ace free legally to vote for someone other than the candidate they were chosen to vot for. This has happened in some instances.

The outlook for action on this proposed constitutional change is clouded by controversy over proposed reforms of the whole electoral college system and by the precedence being given to dealing with vice-presidential vacancis and presidential inability.

Bus Tolls Drop Voted

Golden Gate Bridge district directors voted today to lower Greyhound bus tolls from $1 per trip to 13 cents, on condition that present commute fares are not increased.

Marin Director Thomas D. Hardcastle's motion to "subsidize" Greyhound in exchange for holding the line on commute fores was approved by an 11-to-3 vote of the directors.

Marin's new director on the board, former Supervisor George H. Ludy, backed the

Gen. Taylor Pays Call On New Viet Leader

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor called on Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh today for the first time since the Vietnamese strong man seized power again in Wednesday's bloodless coup.

Taylor also called on Nguyen Xuan Oanh, the new acting premier.

U.S. Embassy officials visited Saigon Buddhist leaders to exchange views.

The United States is ready to support the new government of South Viet Nam but not at the price of removing Ambassador Taylor.

Both the White House and the State Department have emphasized President Johnson's continued confidence in his envoy.

Backing of the new civilian-based Saigon government fashioned by South Viet Nam's military leaders is expected to continue as long as it combats Communist subversion and aggression.

Termed a warning against further Communist terrorism in the capital, a firing squad executed a 20-year-old Vietnamese in Saigon's main public market an hour before sunrise. He had been caught Tuesday night carrying a grenade and a 15-pound bomb

The youth, Le van Khuyen, shivering and silent, was blindfolded, then backed up against a sandbag parapet in front of the National Railroad Building. After the volley of rifle fire and a pistol coup de grace, the body was loaded into a coffin and whisked off in a truck.

16-Foot Boat To Be Sailed Back To Marin

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Three adventursome Sausalitans—one by land and two by sea—will sail a 16-foot flat-bottomed boat from San Pedro to San Francisco starting Sunday.

On the sea will be skipper Jerry Thompson, 31, a scuba diver who owns and operates Sausalito Underwater Search, and Tom Stovell, 29, a chef who works in San Francisco.

On land will be Brookner Brady, 25, a Sausalito boat maintenance man, who will drive a car, meet the men at each of four stops and keep in contact by radio.

They were to leave today, pulling the boat on a trailer to San Pedro. There will be a lay-

The lobby of the College of Marin's new auditorium will serve as an art gallery for the college's art students. The performance hall will be a part of the new music-drama-speech building on the Kentfield campus. A photograph was taken of a scale model of the lobby with pictures of students superimposed on the original photo, creating the true-to-life effect. (Another photo, story, page 6).

German Gentile Ashes Sent Home

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —The ashes of German gentiles murdered at Auschwitz were mailed in "pretty little wooden boxes" to their relatives while the remains of gassed Jews were scattered across a field next to the extermination center, a former inmate testified today.

"The SS insisted on the difference between Jew and gentile even in death," Witold Nieciunski, 49, a Warsaw economist, told the court trying 20 former Auschwitz guards and functionaries in Germany's largest war crimes trial.

"The gentiles were shot in the back of their heads whereas the Jews were gassed in mass groups," the witness added.

FBI Arrests Three For Bombing Cars

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP) — Three white men were arrested by FBI agents early today and charged with the bombings of two cars parked outside a civil rights rally.

The FBI said it seized a Ku Klux Klan charter from the home of one of the men, Raymond Duguid Mills, 35, a self-employed salesman, and that it carried Mills' name as an exalted cyclops.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach announced the arrests.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which entered the case Wednesday, said the three men also were charged with Sunday night's bombing at a Negro funeral home about an hour after the cars were extensively damaged.

No one was injured in either blast.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified the men as Edward Earl Fillingame, 23, a construction laborer; his cousin, Laurie Latham Fillingame, 21, a carpenter and grocery store owner; and Mills.

All were arrested in their homes at Vanceboro, 18 miles north of New Bern.

THIRD GRADE DEATH SONG IS STRICKEN

SAN CLEMENTE (AP) — Teachers were aghast when they heard third graders singing their favorite song from a song list issued them at school.

Called "Suicide Song," it was sung to the tune of "Listen to the Mockingbird" and described a couple's death by gas.

George Knight, music instructor for San Clemente School District, said the song was a parody written to be sung by Parent-Teacher Association members at a PTA program, "and somehow it got tacked onto the third grade list."

Juvenile Beer Party Gets Couple 10 Days

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — A Redwood City couple will serve 10 days in jail and spend a year on probation for allowing their teenaged sons to give a beer party New Year's Eve.

They were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

"You are an example of the worst type of parents this country has," Municipal Court Judge Roy Seagraves told Mr. and Mrs. James R. Melton during sentencing yesterday.

San Mateo County sheriff's deputies said mothers of two girls reported their daughters were served beer at the party given by the Meltons' sons, aged 16 and 18, at their home. Deputies said at least 16 of the 20 persons at the party were under age.

The couple denied they had seen the young persons drinking beer.

"You are both a prime example why there is so much juvenile delinquency in this country," Judge Seagraves told the Meltons.

TAXPAYERS GENEROUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has a message for taxpayers: Stop sending so much money.

Administrator Meeting Set In Fairfax

The Fairfax City Council Sunday will sit down at the chore of screening more than 20 applications for the job of city administrator, a post recently created by city ordinance.

Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet said the 10 a.m. meeting at the city hall will not be a closed one as far as he is concerned. "The door will be open," he said.

This would be one of the times when the council could legally hold a closed session under provisions of the state's Ralph M. Brown Act. The act says public bodies can hold closed sessions only for hiring, firing or hearing charges against employees.

The council recently came under fire for ordering the ordinance on the administrator in a closed session.

Van Fliet said interviews of prospects for the job, slated for 10 a.m., Feb. 6, in city hall, would "probably be closed."

There have been many more applications for the job than were expected, Van Vliet said. Some are from as far away as Utah, Seattle, Wash., and Phoenix, Ariz.

"Everyone wants to come to California," Van Vliet said.

He said the council on Sunday will narrow down the list of applicants to four or five. These will be asked to come to Fairfax for an interview the following Saturday.

School Site Discussion Set

Mill Valley School District trustees meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at Strawberry Point School to discuss exchange of a 25,225-square foot piece of marshland property near the school for a 27,900-square foot parcel owned by Harbor Cove Inc., adjoining school property.

The school district's parcel is adjacent to 11.1 acres owned by Harbor Cove Inc. which the city of Tiburon, county of Marin and Strawberry Recreation District have agreed to purchase to preserve from development.

The board will also hold a hearing on exchange of a fraction of an acre at Tamalpais Valley School for a portion of land owned by Goheen Enterprises.

Fire Chief Assn. Installs Officers

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton of Fairfax was installed as president of the Marin County Fire Chiefs Assn. Wednesday at a dinner attended by 20 chiefs, their wives, and officials of Marin Municipal Water District. Thornton succeeds John Terris of Sausalito.

Other officers installed at the Blue Rock restaurant, Larkspur, are Frank Sousa, San Anselmo, vice president, and Carl O. Heynen Jr., Alto, secretary-treasurer.

Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry was given a gold plated lifetime membership card in the association. Perry will retire next month.

Speeches Slated At Drake High On Race Problem

Hardcastle plan and voted with the majority.

The three dissenters were Dan B. London and Alvin F. Derre of San Francisco and Lowell Edington of Napa.

Hardcastle's motion, seconded by William D. Hadeler of San Francisco, "resolved that in the event of a final determination against any revision in the present bus fares, "the bridge board will adopt the 13-cent toll for buses.

"Final determination" on the commute fares is up to the State Public Utilities Commission, which is considering a request by Greyhound for fare increases in the Marin-San Francisco commute run.

Two Accused Of Car Theft

Two teen-agers were accused today of stealing two San Rafael residents' cars on Jan. 3, then wrecking them in a drag race on Highway 17.

Police Sgt. Carl Selby said the suspects were Charles John Jeffrey, 18, reportedly AWOL from the Navy, and a 17-year-old. Jeffrey has been booked into county jail on an auto theft charge, the other boy is in the juvenile hall.

Selby said the pair allegedly first stole a 1955 Chevrolet station wagon belonging to John R. McBain, from 317 Bayview Street, early Jan. 3, and a few hours later took a 1953 Oldsmobile belonging to Fred Scheuer, 19 Latham Street.

16-Foot Boat To Be Sailed Back To Marin

over tomorrow. Sunday they will set out on the 400-mile trip, stopping each night. Stops are Santa Barbara, Morro Bay, Monterey and Half Moon Bay.

"On Thursday morning we expect to sail under the Golden Gate," said the scuba man.

"No one has ever done this before in an open outboard of this size," said Thompson, who lives at 685 Bridgeway. "If they have I haven't heard of it."

The six-foot wide white and blue fiberglass boat is normally used by Thompson in his underwater diving and surveying work in and around Sausalito.

For this trip, sponsored by Chuck Fillingame's Marin Boat House at Greenbrae, a console, compass and radio have been added. Preparations have been made at the boat house on Corte Madera Creek at 2170 Redwood.

The boat is a Boston whaler and has a four-cycle Homelite outboard engine. Aboard, the men will carry 42 gallons of gasoline, replenishing their supply at each stop. Average speed will be 15 miles per hour.

"The boat will not sink," he said. "You can put eight people in it, fill it with water and it will float and the engine continue to run. It is double-hulled and has styrafoam in between the hulls." He said that the console, a canvas cabin-like hood, was added for shelter. The men will sleep ashore, however.

"We will wear wet suits for protection against cold and may take along a Thermos of hot soup or coffee and some sandwiches," Thompson said.

Fillingame and boat mechanic Al Hart, both of San Rafael, who have worked on preparations, said they would love to go on the trip but cannot get away. "We're all dreamers at heart," said Fillingame.

Thompson said he has been working on the trip for about a year.

"We'll do no night work unless it's calm and clear," he reported, pointing to a wooden paddle secured to one side of the boat, he laughed and said, "should something go wrong with the engine, this is our auxiliary outboard."

Death Row Prisoner Files Writ

Joseph B. Morse, 23, San Quentin death row prisoner and principal figure in a 1964 State Supreme Court ruling which granted new penalty trials to 19 inmates, yesterday complained to Marin Superior Court that he is being denied proper medical attention.

The writ of habeas corpus alleges Morse is suffering from chest pains and shortage of breath, but a prison doctor told him the ailment was psychological and did not even give him a physical examination.

Morse asks that the prison medical department be directed to take positive steps in treatment. Action on his request was pending at noon today.

Morse was sentenced to death in 1962 for beating his widowed mother and crippled 12-year-old sister to death. In January, 1964, however, the State Supreme Court ordered a new penalty trial in San Diego County on grounds that the sentence was given because the jury was warned Morse could be paroled if given a life sentence.

He was given a life sentence after the new trial, but while still in the San Diego Jail, he strangled to death a fellow-inmate, Thomas Larry Taddei, 23, a former laborer from Boise, Ida., and was again convicted and given a death penalty.

Rosa, had arrived by jeep at the north side of the estuary to dig clams.

The plane crashed on the opposite side of the channel into the estuary. The Lemos brothers and Mathias took a boat at the William Hall duck shack and rowed to the scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Paris, meanwhile, went to headquarters of the Hall Ranch to call for help.

Bud Lemos told the Independent-Journal that he found the plane in about three feet of water, with the motor tossed ahead about 10 feet. He found only one man inside. The man had a severe head injury.

"I'm sure he was dead," Lemos said.

Lemos ripped a portion of the plane's skin aside to inspect the interior of the craft. "There was no one else around," he said.

The three men returned to the north side of the channel and met Mr. and Mrs. Paris returning from making their call.

"Suddenly, I heard someone screaming for help," Mrs. Paris said.

"It was a horrible sound," Paris recalled.

Meanwhile, a Coast Guard amphibious helicopter was dispatched from San Francisco at 5:42 p.m. It arrived at the scene at 6:09 p.m. and searched for 19 minutes before finding Morales walking on the sandbar about a mile from the wreckage.

He was in shock and had suffered facial cuts and a broken right arm. He was given emergency treatment by a Coast Guard doctor on the helicopter. The searchers next found the wreckage.

The Coast Guard doctor pulled McClish's body from the wreckage and pronounced him dead. He then pulled the body to high ground on thes andbar, hoping it would not be washed away.

The helicopter then flew to Crissy Field at Presidio of San Francisco, arriving at 7:09 p.m. Morales was taken to Letterman General Hospital where he was in satisfactory condition today.

He lives on the McClish ranch and attends Santa Rosa Junior College.

With the first report of the crash, ambulances, sheriff's deputies and Marin County firemen rushed to the scene, approaching from both sides of the estuary.

Fog and darkness, however, made it difficult to locate the wreckage. Long after the helicopter had come and gone, a party in an outboard set out from the north side of the estuary.

In it were Sheriff's Sgt. Michael McLean, Deputy Robert Bertrand, Independent-Journal photographer James Kean and Rudy Horack, who operates the Hall Ranch.

They were unable to locate the wreckage, covered by then by the tide.

This morning, the wreckage was discovered in the channel, washed there by the current. McClish's body was found on the bar some distance from the crash scene by McLean and Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley, who crossed the channel in a boat.

Bradley and McLean, with the help of Deputies William Wallace and Bertrand, carried the body to the Hall Ranch.

It was thef irst fatal plane crash in Marin since April 29, 1961, when a Santa Barbara couple and a Canoga Park pilot were killed in a crash on the Green Gulch Ranch near Muir Beach.

McClish, a native of Healdsburg, is survived by his wife, Eda. They have no children.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

stantial last-minute withdrawals?

"Were there indications that questionable interest rates might have attracted excessive tempor ary depositors?

"Were the officers of the bank investigated thoroughly in terms of financial reputation and background?"

Murphy said his questions are intended only to obtain "a public accounting of the complete circumstances which led to the bank's failure."

These were late developments:

—Don C. Silverthorne, founder of the bank and its president until he was ousted in November, charged that the order closing the bank was "unwarranted, unjustified and a political subterfuge."

—Federal investigators were reported to be checking on Silverthorne's gambling activities at Nevada gaming casinos.

—Lytton Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles disclosed that it cashed a $1.5 million certificate of deposit at San Francisco National on Jan. 22, the day it was declared insolvent.

About a third of the depositers have already claimed their money through other banks in the city.

Adeline Crane Dies At 100

2 To March For Dimes Once More

Paul Henry Clifford and Arthur Peter Brody say they really were collecting money for the March of Dimes when stopped by police last Saturday—and to prove it they'll do it again.

Clifford, 20, and Brody, 22, both of whom live at 275 Canal Street, San Rafael, were stopped when soliciting March of Dimes contributions on Nova Albion Way. Clifford S. Lund, March of Dimes campaign chairman, said the two had not been authorized to collect for the drive.

At the police station, Clifford and Brody turned over funds they had collected to Lund, and insisted they meant no harm and didn't know credentials were necessary.

To prove their good intentions, they asked to be allowed to collect further for the March of Dimes. Lund said today they would receive credentials to collect in the canal apartments area on Sunday.

The campaign chairman took occasion to caution residents not to give to persons who say they represent March of Dimes unless they can show credentials.

Suspects Picked Up In Theft Case

Burglary of the Top Hat Market, 540 Irwin Street, San Rafael, apparently was solved today moments after storeowners discovered that $300 to $500 worth of steaks, beer and cigarettes had been stolen overnight.

Booked into county jail on burglary charges were Ross Rod Love, 24, of 52 Harte Avenue, San Rafael, and Lawrence Ray Parrott 24, of 6 Romar Court, Novato.

San Rafael police reported that a patrolling officer spotted Parrott sleeping in his car in front of Love's residence. Shortly after the burglary was discovered at 7:30 a.m. When the officer investigated, the stolen merchandise was visible in the auto.

Parrott faces an additional charge of concealing stolen property, police said. Both men are held in lieu of $2,750 bail.

A rear window was broken to enter the market, and a rear door forced to carry out the loot.

Most of us are looking for something to go by — a yardstick, a set of standards, a law — something that will give direction to life. Ultimately, we find our only sure standard in the laws of divine Love. STILL VALUABLE

Jefferson Coppers Aren't Rare At All

At least three Marinites have copper Jefferson nickels similar to one in Mankato, Minn., which was pictured in the Independent-Journal Wednesday with a caption saying its finder figured it was worth $5,000.

But they're not likely to get $5,000 for them, or anywhere near it.

Irving Chapman Jr., Novato shoe store operator, said he got one of the copper nickels in a roll of new nickels from a bank a few weeks ago. He took it to Ned Spaulding at Spaulding's Hobby Center in Ross, who told him he thought he could get $35 to $45 for it.

Leon Johnson, Novato coin collector, has another. He said it was in a collection he bought in 1959 and he had kept it as a show piece.

A youth who did not give his name also called the I-J to report having one of the nickels after he read of the $5,000 price estimate.

The Mankato collector, however, apparently didn't do any checking — nor did Associated Press, which transmitted the picture.

Robert Johnson, San Francisco coin dealer, said the copper nickel is a freak but not too unusual. There are such off-metal freaks in all coin issues, he reported.

"They're hard to sell," said Johnson. "Most collectors don't bother with them. Collectors of freak coins will buy them, and I would estimate the copper Jefferson nickel should be worth $50 to $100 if you could find a buyer."

Superior Court Due Case Of Heroin Conspiracy

All three persons charged with conspiracy to smuggle heroin into San Quentin Prison were bound over to Marin Superior Court for trial late yesterday at conclusion of preliminary hearing before Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court.

Arraignment of the suspects, Joseph Matthew Herman, 57, of Mill Valley; Jesus Gonzales, San Quentin inmate, and Frances Baeza, 44, of Los Angeles, is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

In addition, Gonzales was bound over on a second charge, of illegal possession of heroin.

A prison guard, T. J. Shimmin, testified yesterday he searched Gonzales, serving a life term for a 1957 murder in San Francisco, and found $90 cash and seven packs of alleged narcotics in his possession last Dec. 10.

Previously, a niece by marriage of Gonzales', Mrs. Sandra Gonzales, 21, of San Francisco, had testified she and her husband, Robert, were the go-betweens for delivery of the heroin.

She said she and Robert became very fond of Jesus Gonzales in his role of marriage counselor for them during domestic problems, and he started passing her money during visits to the prison.

In turn, she said, she purchased heroin brought to San Francisco by Frances Baeza, and delivered it to Herman at his Mill Valley home, 332 Jean Street. Herman allegedly then smuggled it into prison on his job as clerk there.

McCarthy Hopes For Amendment

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, minority leader in the Senate, was one of the luncheon speakers today, as the California Republican Central Committee opened a three-day meeting in Ios Angeles.

McCarthy's topic was the of the state Senate and Governor Brown's proposal to withhold state personal income taxes.

The San Rafael legislator told the GOP gathering that hopes for a federal constitutional amendment permitting each state to set one of its legislative houses on a basis other than population is not a lost cause.

He also renewed his attack on the governor's pay-as-you-earn state income tax proposal.

Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin County Water District, last night received the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award at a meeting in Cloud Five restaurant.

Gilbert was presented the award by James J. Pelmulder, acting president of the Jaycees. The award is given annually to a man the junior chamber feels has contributed the most to the city.

Gilbert is president of the Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Assn., and a member of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Pollution Control Board.

Drastic Lesson Given Students

RICHMOND (AP) — Bus driver Donald Boyer said he decided yesterday that something drastic had to be done about abusive, disobedient students he hauls to Richmond High School daily.

Boyer drove directly past the school and pulled up in front of the Richmond police station. Thirteen of his 25 fares were turned over to police, who said they delivered a lengthy lecture to the stunned group and sent them home. No complaint was signed. Boyer was backed by his employers.

"I guess he just got fed up," said an official of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit line for which Boyer works.

Tiburon Hires New Attorney; Planner's Work Is Discussed

The Tiburon City Council by 4-0 vote last night hired a new city attorney. Councilmen also discussed the work of the city's planning consultant, John David Erickson, at the closed meeting.

Robert I. Conn of Sausalito was named city attorney. The 4-0 vote came when councilman Leo Souza left the room before the vote, after saying he preferred to consider other attorneys before making the appointment.

Conn is a partner in the firm of Smith, Truett, Durham and Conn of San Rafael, headed by former Tiburon City attorney Peter Allen Smith. Smith resigned Monday following his appointment as a Marin Municipal Court judge.

The council decided that the $300 a month for the city attorney would remain the same. Conn has sat in for Smith at some city council sessions and has done much of the background work in handling city affairs since incorporation in June.

Erickson's plans for a residential development to be named Tiburon Ridge were turned down unamously by the city planning commission at its meeting Wednesday.

Developer Howard Eichen of Fullerton had proposed 40 lots on 14 acres; Erickson's plan was for 38 lots rearranged on the acreage.

Plans were criticized by some planning commissioners, city administrator Lawrence D. Rose and some members of the audience as lacking proper plans for drainage, having lots averaging 10,300 square feet when the city's minimum is 20,000, having poor design for the hilly terain. But one commissaid she thought the plans "imaginative."

After discussing Erickson's work last night the council "expressed confidence in the city administrator to do what is best for the city," Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge said today.

Rose reported he will discuss today with Sydney H. Williams, with whose firm the city has Tiburon's planning contract, future projects on which Erickson normally would work. Projects coming up are studies of the waterfront, density at Lyford Cove, and sign regulations.

Rose would express no opinion on whether Erickson will continue work for the city.

Kentfield Firemen To Buy Vacuum

Directors of the Kentfield Fire District last night approved purchase of a vacuum cleaner for fire cleanup for $200.

The board discussed specifications for a new fire truck, but postponed action until Feb. 25. The Kentfield General Plan was reviewed, but no change was recommended.

The Communist government has changed the name of the small trading town of Pailingmiao in Inner Mongolia to Taerhhanmaominganlienhochi.

Mrs. Secor Resigns From School Board

Mrs. Pauline Secor last night resigned from the Larkspur School District board.

She was not present at the board meeting, but in a letter said her family will take a six-month tour of Europe. She said she was giving up the post "with much reluctance."

"The people of the community as well as the board are indebted to her for her excellent service," said board president John W. Boyd. The remaining trustees called for applications from persons interested in filling the position to be submitted to the district office by 5 p.m. next Friday.

A closed session was set for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 8 at the Larkspur-Corte Madera School to interview applicants for the post.

Mrs. Secor, wife of Dr. Charles Secor, was named to the board in June, 1960, and was elected to a four-year term in 1963. She lives at 30 Palm Avenue, Larkspur.

Police Find Escaper From Juvenile Hall

A Larkspur youth who hours earlier had escaped from Marin County Juvenile Hall was picked up among five teen-agers breaking curfew laws in Corte Madera early today.

One of the group, David C. Williams, 18, of 158 Stetson Avenue, Corte Madera, was booked into county jail, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

With him in a car parked at a service station at 522 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, were a 17-year-old Larkspur girl, a Corte Madera boy the same age, and a 15-year-old Larkspur boy, police reported.

The escapee, also 17, had darted from the hall about 6:30 p.m. yesterday, the county probation office reported. He was with a group of boys being moved from one wing of the building to another through an outside covered walkway.

The youth bolted, scaled a chain-link fence and disappeared into the Marinwood hills.

Corte Madera police said the 15-year-old confessed two burglaries in Ross but Ross police took no action.

NEW AUDITORIUM—This is how the new 600-seat auditorium at the College of Marin in Kentfield will look when completed. Working drawings for the college's music-drama-speech building were approved by the Marin Junior College District board last night. The audience in the hall was created by a photographic process in which the scale model of the auditorium was photographed and pictures of persons in the audience were glued onto the print which was re-photographed.

College Board Approves Plan For Building

Working drawings for the College of Marin music-drama-speech building on the Kentfield campus were approved last night by the Marin Junior College District Board.

Approved also was the final construction cost estimate of $1,918,468.85, including $1,467,018.85 for building costs, $54,000 for air conditioning the entire building, and $55,700 for special light, sound and recording equipment.

In a five-hour special meeting of the board Tuesday, trustees examined the plans submitted by architect Corwin Booth of Falk and Booth of San Francisco.

Wesley Hull of the architectural firm declared last night, "I have never seen a board more interested in finding out about all the intricacies of a new building."

The trustees authorized a call for bids on the building, to be between the two existing art buildings and extending toward Laurel Avenue. Date of bid opening was not set.

The construction cost estimate includes $22,750 for auditorium seating; $25,000 for a hydraulic platform in front of the stage; $48,600 for the stage set, rigging and proscenium panels; $70,000 for landscaping, topsoil and sprinklers; $53,900 for sitework outside the building; $100,000 for cement pilings in the foundation; $13,500 for replacement of utility lines between the art building wings, and $8,000 for night lighting around the building's exterior.

Body Is Found Floating In San Rafael Canal

The badly decomposed body of a San Rafael carpenter-laborer was found floating in the San Rafael Canal at 5:38 p.m. yesterday by a Kentfield man who swims daily in the canal.

San Rafael police said papers in clothing on the body identified it as Marshall E. Dixon, of 1111 Fourth Street. County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said the body apepared to have been in the water for a week to 10 days.

The body was discovered by Thomas Charles Rice of 19 Elm Avenue, Kentfield, an insurance agent. He told police he saw what he thought was a mop floating in the canal, then discovered it was a dead man.

The body was removed to the Harry M. Williams Mortuary to await autopsy.

The coroner's office said Dixon is believed to have a wife, Cecilia, living in Napa, and that Napa police are trying to locate her.

Fairfax Commissioners Vote Against Rezone

The Fairfax Planning Commission, after an hour-long public hearing last night, voted to recommend against rezoning which would have permtited planned unit development on 9-8 acres between Olema Road and Fairfax Boulevard.

The development is proposed by Farr Associates. The firm asked change from single-family residential zoning, to allow cluster development.

Dan M. Miller, chairman, said all commissioners except Roland Watts, who was absent due to illness, voted against the application.

The commission also recommended that the council take emergency steps to correct an access road built by Myron Brown on Woodland Road. Miller said the road encroaches on city property and involves an unsupported mudbank, 18 feet high. The matter will be considered by the council Feb. 8.

The commission re-elected Miller as chairman and Leo Cronin as secretary.

Man Faces 7th Drunk Charge

George Albert Barnett, 42, San Anselmo man facing his seventh drunken driving charge, was scheduled for judgment on three of the cases at 3:30 p.m. today in Marin Municipal Court.

The sentencing by Judge Joseph G. Wilson was postponed from yesterday when Barnett's attorney, W. O Weissich of San Rafael, said Barnett was in Veterans Hospital in Martinez. He was expected to appear today, however.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said he will recommend a total of six months in Marin County jail and $750 fine.

Barnett, of 125 Crane Drive, formerly a co-owner of San Rafael Associates Inc., faces judgment for convictions on violations in Marin County on March 31, Oct. 17, and Nov. 10 of last year. He also was convicted of drunken driving in San Rafael on June 29, 1957, drawing a $166 fine, and was fined $276 and given five days in jail for the same offense Jan. 25, 1962, also in San Rafael.

In addition, he still faces arraignment on identical charges for Dec. 28, 1964, and Jan. 16, 1965.

He is free on $550 bail.

San Anselmo Acts To Save Oak Tree

San Anselmo city officials were given the green light today to launch their save-the-tree movement for the stately old oak that stands at the borderline of the city's new parking lot A."

City Administrator D. E. Flautt said public works crews would begin immediately to remove dirt piled against the tree during parking lot grading operations. Flautt reported that Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. and his brother Roderick, who own half the land on which the tree stands, have given permission for the work, providing the city gives them a letter stating the tree project in no way affects ownership of the land.

The Martinellis and Northern Pacific Railroad are involved in a dispute over the property.

Larkspur School Budget Up

The Larkspur School District board last night received a proposed budget of $1,156,523 for the 1966 fiscal year, up from $1,097,098 total expenditures this fiscal year.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen, in giving the budget to the board, said no tax increase would be needed.

Addition of five teachers and of bus services are included in the budget.

Bus service will begin Monday, Cohen announced. Schedules have been sent home to parents with school children.

A letter to the county committee on school district organization asking for a vote as soon as possible on unification of all school districts in the Tamalpais High School District area into one district was approved, 4-1. The dissenter was Curtis P. Kamai, who has opposed the plan in the past.

A school calendar was adopted which matches that of Tamalpais High School District except that school will start on Sept. 13, one day earlier than the high schools. The schedule calls for 177 school days, ending June 17.

To Teach Class

Sausalito sculptor Art Grant will conduct a class in "creative awareness" for six weeks at San Francisco State College starting Feb. 17. Classes are from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesdays.

Referee To Decide On Engineer

Directors of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District couldn't agree last night on whether to hire a district engineer-manager so they voted to bring an impartial referee to make a recommendation.

Directors voted 4-1 to obtain a referee and abide by his decision.

The district obtains engineering services from J. Warren Nute of San Rafael on a contract basis.

Director John E. Duckett, who favors hiring a district engineer, voted against asking a referee to decide.

The board authorized the attorneys for the district, Wilson, Jones, Morton and Lynch of San Mateo, and the district auditors, Sleezer and Eckhoff of San Rafael, to recommend persons for the job of referee. The recommendations are slated to be presented to the directors at their Feb. 11 meeting.

Three Theft Suspects Questioned

Three men suspected of holding up the Villa Rafael Motel for $112 on Oct. 20, 1962, were in custody in San Francisco and being questioned by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa today.

The chief said the trio may also have been responsible for robbing the same motel of $77 on June 20, 1963.

They were identified by Dennis Lyle Martindale, 24; Robert Lee Davison, 25 and Wayne Richard Noe, 22, all of Vallejo.

Chiesa said Noe was arrested in Las Vegas on New Year's Eve, after running amuck and firing several shotgun blasts into the walls and ceiling of the home where he was staying. While in custody there, he began talking about a series of holdups, including the 1962 robbery in San Rafael.

Chiesa said San Francisco, Fresno, and several cities along Highway 99 have placed holds on the trio as robbery suspects.

Rancher Awaits Official Word On Killing Eagles

Leroy Martinelli, Point Reyes Station rancher, had still heard nothing official today on whether he must face charges for killing two bald eagles that were killing his sheep.

The birds are protected by federal and state laws which carry a maximum penalty of $500 and six months in jail. Martinelli did not discover this until stories of the shooting and pictures of the dead birds had appeared in newspapers.

Jack Downs, of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Sacramento office, Wednesday asked an investigation on the eagle shooting. He expected to make a decision on whether to ask prosecution on the case Monday.

Meanwhile, Martinelli, who has been asked to wait the decision, is doing just that—waiting.

He is also keeping an eye peeled for a third eagle, ready to scare it away from his sheep if it attacks. He has already lost seven lambs.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
From time to time, the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine has run feature stories about the various dog breeds popular with show dog and pet owners of the county. Another in that popular series appears in tomorrow's weekend supplement. This time the subject is the Miniature Schnauzer. This little German import is a fascinating member of the canine family, and you'll enjoy reading about a Marin woman who breeds and shows the "minnies."
Tomorrow's Marin Magazine also continues the popular "Profile of a Marinite" series with a candid study of a member of the Marin judiciary. He is Municipal Judge Joseph Gardner Wilson, appointed to the bench in 1960 and elected without opposition to a full term this past year. I-J reporter Ross Davis has written the profile of this dedicated Marinite, tracing his background and examining his opinions on the courts and the law.

Not All Juvenile Cases Made Public

There is no law on the books saying that arrests of juvenile offenders cannot be published in newspapers, but not all arrest reports involving juveniles are available to the public.

This fact has been brought to focus by the recently introduced legislation proposed by Assemblymen Leroy Green (D-Sacramento) and Nicholas C. Petris (D-Oakland). Their proposed legislation would put juvenile crime cases into open court.

Arrests, or more precisely citations, of juvenile offenders are now part of crime reports open to the public by police departments and the sheriff's department in Marin County. However, arrests made by the county probation officers are not made public.

Publicizing arrests of juveniles might well increase if the open court law were enacted by the legislature, because the bill would eliminate one of the main reasons newspapers are reluctant to print juvenile's names in stories of arrest.

If a youth is arrested and the story printed, there is no way the case can be followed up. The charge might be dropped, reduced or a stiff sentence imposed. But this is all done in closed court.

Most editors believe it is a serious injustice to report a person's arrest and then not follow the case to its legal conclusion.

The Greene-Petris Bill would place felony cases involving youths 16 or over in open court. The theory is that the publicity that would be possible would help prevent juvenile crime.

This theory has been long debated. There is no consensus on it among law officers and judges, including those in Marin County.

White House Closing Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 111-year-old White House department store will close Sunday night, possibly for good, San Francisco Mayor John Shelley said yesterday.

The store is now advertising a "must-raise-cash" sale, with all merchandise going at 50 per cent off at both its San Francis and Oakland locations.

Shelley said after a conference with store officials that he did not know if the shutdown would be permanent. It depends on whether the store can get sufficient financing.

Minuteman Test Is Successful

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) -- America's newest strategic missile, Minuteman 2, has registered its fifth successful test flight.

One of the pushbutton weapons darted out of an underground silo last night and hurled its warhead to a target area 4,000 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy. It was the first short-range test for the missile, previously shot over 5,000-mile courses.

Zone Discussed

Uses and zoning of the Sausalito waterfront were discussed for two hours last night at a workshop session of the planning commission with no action taken. The waterfront committee will make a full report on the subject to the commission Feb. 17, said chairman Robert L. Nissen.

$42 Million In Flood Relief Is Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Brown administration, unwrapping more of its legislative package, disclosed plans today for a $42 million relief program for flood-battered California.

A special temporary 1-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax would provide $37 million while the General Fund would be tapped for another $5 million, an administration source said.

Three of Gov. Brown's programs already have been handed to the legislature—his budget, his bill to abolish the death penalty and a measure to restore the financial solvency of the Disability Insurance Fund.

And the Finance Department is hard at work on another proposal, a major reform of the property tax system.

The source said relief for the stricken Northern counties would be furnished by a five-point plan that would:

1. Provide gas tax money for repair of destroyed and damaged roads, streets and bridges.
2. Help the reconstruction of local public facilities.
3. Rebuild schools.
4. Reconstruct state buildings and facilities.
5. Provide counties with money to make up for funds lost through the inability of local flood victims to pay their taxes.

Tentative plans call for the governor to announce the program in a special news conference Monday.

Opposition already has developed to the administration's plan to raise the gas tax from 7 to 8 cents for six months.

Sen. Vicgil O'Sullivan, D-Williams, while pressing for quick aid, said "this 'special' tax is just too tempting to some bureaucrats; they'll want to make it permanent."

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, backs the tax but wants it to remain in effect for a year.

News of the administration plan came as the legcslature recessed for a three-day weekend.

They'll be back Monday when Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, will reveal the makeup of the lower house committees.

The second anniversary of the Moose Lodge 2041 of Novato will be observed tomorrow from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Moose Hall at 855 Vallejo Avenue, Novato. The Tune Toppers will furnish music for dancing.

Long Distance Rates Reduced

NEW YORK (AP) — Long distance telephone calls on evenings and weekends will be cheaper starting Monday.

Under a Federal Communications Commission order issued Nov. 25, the $1 maximum station-to-station long distance rate inaugurated in 1963 will be extended.

The charge applies to the first three minutes.

The reduced rates will be effective for six week days at 8 p.m. at the originating point, rather than the present 9 p.m. They will apply all day Sunday.

Reduced rates higher than the after-8 tariffs will apply to Saturday calls and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Look For Celebrations When Chinese New Year Arrives

Chinese New Year's is next Tuesday — so look for Chinese restaurants in the county to carry on some sort of observance of the occasion, if not with traditional firecrackers popping.

It is also Groundhog Day, although what bearing that may have on the beginning of the "Year of the Snake" or the restaurant business, I'm not sure—unless as a warning not to go overboard on either food or drink.

Confucius Restaurant in Greenbrae will celebrate by including in every dinner served Tuesday through Sunday a bottle of choice Gamay Rose wine—or an after dinner potion, at your option, says manager Ed Leong.

ON JACOBY STREET, San Rafael, Great Wall Restaurant will be another celebrant—but this one prefers to call it a grand opening celebration. One way or the other, Frankie Ling and Hung Huey are running a "two-for-one" dinner special Monday through Thursday next week. You pay for one—get another one free. No, I don't mean you have to eat both of them. Take somebody.

CHUCK MOWERS was also planning a grand opening of his new Hi-Ho Restaurant the latter part of next week, but at this date of writing it wasn't established as definite. Hi-Ho is on Redwood Highway south of Alto. (No Chinese food.)

CAROUSEL DRIVE IN, 7441 Redwood Highway, Novato, has been sold by Joseph O'Amato, who has been ill, to Robert Doiron of Corte Madera and his father-in-law Paul Dittmar of Stinson Beach. They and their wives and even the Doiron boys will be active in the business, making it a family operation in every sense of the word.

The transaction was handled by Harry Abras of Timmer Realty.

New owners take possession Monday and will continue under the same name. Alterations and some minor changes may be made. The Carousel will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sundays through Thursdays, and to midnight Fridays and Saturdays.

Doiron has been 15 years in charge of data processing for Paul Masson Winery.

I'VE BEEN TOLD by purveyors that chef and co-owner Alfred Roblin at Ondine is a fussy buyer—that he holds out for the very top quality of food and produce and will take nothing less. Woe betide the supplier who lets down by delivering anything but the best on the market.

Pushing him in a corner I passed along this critical commentary and his reply was sound reasoning.

"If we let down just once in what we buy it costs us far more in customers," he said. "You might say that they are the ones who set our standards and we have no choice but to uphold them."

It shows in what's placed before you when you dine there.

Like the spinach salad . . . but I've already written about that. Then find out what chef Roblin and his staff can do with sweetbreads. There's a dish you can use as a basis for comparison. And there's a new one on the menu—chicken Cynthia.

POPULAR CORNER at El Paseo Restaurant in Mill Valley is Mary Harkins' newly completed cocktail area, separated from the rest of the dining room by a lattice. It's furnished with tables and comfortable curved furniture and started out to be a cozy corner for the ladies. But the men have taken over—at least they were that numerous last weekend.

Oh, yes—there's one more improvement here to report—and this will appeal to the habitues. There's no long any need for a "Key Club" so it has been dissolved. Added facilities across the passageway have been installed.

RON LIPORI has some new ideas for merchants lunches he is starting to introduce at La Casa Italian Restaurant, San Rafael. He doesn't have the entire bill of fare laid out yet, but some items will be sausage and eggs, bell pepper and eggs and fried codfish patties. Menu will be changed daily. Also sandwiches and salads.

BERKELEY FARMS COFFEE SHOP, recently opened adjoining Berkeley Farms' office and dairy truck depot at Highway 101 and Lamont Avenue, Novato, seems to have settled into a comfortable stride of serving breakfasts, lunches and dinners seven days a week. Hours start at 6 a.m. and close at 11:30 p.m.

There's a good "Ranch Special" breakfast at $1.25. Along about noon you can get merchants lunches from 95 cents to $1.19. Dinners run from $1.85 to $2, with a la carte to $2.35. Featured are such entrees as roast leg of pork with apple sauce, sirloin tips with steamed rice, roast lamb, beef and chicken, old fashioned beef stew and several seafoods: Fried prawns, oysters and scallops, grilled sole and halibut. All roasted meats are carved hot—not beforehand and warmed over.

Fountain service, of course.

Manager here is William Ludolph—and as hostess you will find none other than Lillian Sabin (formerly Lillian Ludwig) who used to be at the Hickory Pit, San Rafael.

AND SPEAKING of merchants lunches, my chapeau is off to Raymond Coscarat and chef Jean Pierre Elgart for their $1.25 repast at Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Merchants lunch? You should see the number of ladies who are making this place a noontime "re-treat." Poulet Basque is particularly good. Soup, salad and dessert goes with it.

THERE'S DINNER DANCING at the Redwood Club Sky Lounge and Restaurant, high in the Kaehler-Farrar Building, San Rafael. It's held in the banquet room Friday and Saturday nights from 9 to 1 in the morning. The Commodores are the musical group.

Organ bar in the lounge is being changed to a piano bar, with playing there also on Friday and Saturday nights—but it's far enough removed from the dance orchestra so there's no conflict of sounds.

LAST CALL. March of Dimes dinner at Rancho Nicasio is Monday Night. If you're going, and haven't made reservations—better get on it. There's a big program brewing.

Nick Kobseff tells me they'll have the Steve and Johnny Duo for music, Sonoma singing discovery Clairette Clementino who now seems to be Hollywood bound, some entertainers from Redding headed by Rock Russell and Don De Ford, who are said to be bringing along "the world's greatest twist artist"—and hopefully, Olga Chronis, an operatic discovery.

Zambia is the first British dependency to become a full-fledged republic without going through an intermediate stage as a dominion.

NEW MANAGER—Chris Mathews, formerly at Hamilton Air Force Base, is now in charge of Peacock Gap Country Club, and the Peacock Gap Beach and Yacht Club. Born in West Point, N. Y., Mathews has been 21 years in the Air Force, achieving the rank of lieutenant colonel before his recent retirement. He and his wife live in Novato, but will move to Peacock Gap. He is an avid golfer.

Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for everybody.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

NEW PLANNERS DUE AT SESSION

One Item On Agenda Is Rezoning Request By Commissioner Heifetz

The Marin County Planning Commission, recently revamped by the county board of supervisors, is scheduled to hold its first meeting with three new commissioners at 9 a.m. Monday at the Civic Center.

Joining the commission will be Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, a former commission member, Harry Heifetz of San Rafael and Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach.

They will succeed three commissioners who were replaced by supervisors after refusing to resign as requested by the board. Dropped were Henry C. Hankins of Point Reyes Station, Edward K. Wachsman of San Rafael and George Scott of Mill Valley.

One of the items on the agenda is an application by one of the new commissioners, Heifetz, for rezoning of a parcel of about 1.5 acres in Santa Venetia.

Heifetz is requesting a change from residential estates to planned zoning for the site along the south side of North San Pedro Road, between the Gallinas Village Shopping Center and La Brea Way. His petition for the rezoning was received at the planning department Jan. 13 and he was appointed to the commission Jan. 19.

The commission meeting is scheduled to open with the second hearing on the proposed county master plan for parks, recreation and open space.

Commissioners also are scheduled to review the county's lot-split ordinance, which was passed as an emergency measure by supervisors last October. (Item 22 on the agenda.)

The commission also will consider an application by Hoytt Enterprises for a use permit for a planned community on a 13.5 acre site on the south side of Miller Creek Road, just east of Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood. The firm plans to develop a townhouse community in an area designated for multiple-family development in the Marinwood master plan. (Item 17 on the agenda.)

Boat Accidents Claim 89 Lives

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Recreational boating accidents killed 89 Californians and injured 269 last year, the Division of Small Craft Harbors reported Wednesday.

Division Chief Lachlan M. Richards said the rate was down slightly from 1963, when there were fewer serious accidents but also considerably fewer registered pleasure boats. The 1963 toll was 84 deaths and 224 injuries.

The biggest single cause of accidents involving death or injury was capsizing because of improper loading.

Collisions resulting in four deaths and 78 injuries, and fires and explosions killed one person and injured 60.

'Gold Hat' Drama Due In San Rafael

"The Gold Hat," a production by the San Francisco Players Guild, will be presented Feb. 6 at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium. The play is the third production sponsored this season by the Junior Theater of Marin.

The play, produced and directed by Martha Bigelow Eliot of Belvedere, was written by Edward Bezozo of Columbia University. Alice Perry of Sausalito is company manager and takes a role in the play.

Marin Plumbing Group Elects

Samuel H. DeLisle of San Rafael, executive manager of the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties, was elected president of the newly formed Marin County Plumbing Technical Advisory Board Wednesday night.

Members of the board are plumbing inspectors Merl Mauroni of Novato, William McBride of Corte Madera, Ronald Glander of Larkspur, Ted Iverson of Marin County and Jack Coates of San Rafael, and plumbing contractors Walter E. Louis, Robert Cook and Kenneth Testa of San Rafael, O. E. Dehnert of Corte Madera and Donald Ongaro of San Anselmo.

Sports Injury Conference Is 'Ounce Of Prevention'

We all talk of that "ounce of prevention" but all too often fail to act until it's time for, or even too late for, that "pound of cure."

Tomorrow, a group of community leaders—medical men, educators, coaches and athletes—will gather in San Rafael for the "ounce of prevention."

Marin's third annual Sports Injury Conference will be held all day at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

The Marin Medical Society and the County Superintendent of Schools Office are to be commended for sponsoring the event.

The day-long series of lectures, discussions and demonstrations will all be geared for one purpose—to lessen and if possible eliminate the injuries that result from contact sports.

We trust that the public in general, and those concerned with the conditioning and treatment of athletes, will take advantage of the conference and the various safety tips that experts will offer.

Name athletes expected to attend include Craig Morton of University of California and sportscaster Gordon Soltau, former all-American football player.

Medical experts will explain the importance of training and conditioning and will probe some of the emotional problems faced by athletes.

Those specializing in equipment will be leading discussions on helmets, braces and guards, and latest safety improvements in athletic equipment.

This information, gleaned by various coaches, trainers and educators, will be taken back to their respective schools to be put to immediate use in coming athletic events.

Unfortunately, the results of such conferences are unspectacular. In fact, the more successful the conference, the least spectacular will be the results.

As each Marin athletic event comes and goes without incident we might well give some of the credit for the absence of injury headlines to our annual Sports Injury Conference.

After every spectacular highway accident, we clamor for action, bemoaning the fact that something was not done beforehand.

In the field of sports, something is being done beforehand.

Bouquets to those responsible for perpetuating these safety sessions, and to the "unspectacular" results they help attain.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Amendment Is Needed To Cover What Happens If President Sick

WASHINGTON—When Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana stands up in the Senate to expound his amendment to clear up what happens when a president cannot do his job, he could well begin like this:

"I invite you to look at a picture. It shows an ambulance driving up to the White House to rush President Johnson to a hospital at 2 a.m.

"IT IS A SCENE which can not fail to chill the nation, not only because of our concern for the health of the president, but because of our concern for the welfare of the United States.

"Four times in recent memory it has happened: In Denver less than 10 years ago when President Eisenhower was struck down by a heart attack—plus two illnesses, in Washington last week when President Johnson's sickness gave us another stabbing anxiety—the anxiety that the White House would again be without its occupant with no orderly procedure to decide how this awesome and urgent responsibility should be carried on.

"The instant danger has now passed. Again we can breathe more easily.

"BUT I ASK YOU, how many times must this happen before Congress takes action to repair the gaping hole in the Constitution which leaves this emergency unprovided for?

"Let us not be so relieved at Mr. Johnson's prompt recovery that we fail to act promptly to resolve the never-settled issue of how the presidency shall be conducted when the president is disabled.

"Whenever a president is stricken, we say how awful for the country—and when he recovers, we forget.

"Let us stop forgetting and start acting."

THERE IS NEED for prompt action. Fortunately, Senator Bayh, with 33 co-sponsors in the Senate, and Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, chairman of the judiciary committee in the House, are beginning early in this session to advance the amendment which was halted by adjournment last year.

The problem is that the language of the Constitution is vague and ambiguous on three points affecting the presidency. It does not define disability. It does not say who shall decide when disability exists or when it no longer exists. It does not make clear whether the "office" of the president or just his "powers and duties" are to be taken over by the vice president.

This is not theory. It has had concrete and crippling effects.

For many months President Woodrow Wilson was unable to perform his duties. The office limped to a standstill because of the president's fear that, if he permitted his vice president to use his powers, he would never get them back. He even fired his secretary of state because he dared to call a Cabinet meeting while the president was sick. Wilson tried to conceal his sickness and there was no means of establishing his disability.

THE PROPOSED amendment would permit the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet to determine a president's disability if the president refused or was unable to affirm his disability.

The amendment also guarantees that the nation will not be without a vice president. On 16 different times, totalling more than 37 years, the vice presidency has been vacant. The amendment would permit the president to choose a vice president subject to approval by a majority of Congress.

In today's world we cannot afford to be without a functioning president at any time. There must be no confusion about it.

This is why the Bayh-Celler amendment is so urgent and so important.

Sheep-Killing Dogs Arouse Complaint

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I'm mad, plus sick, after seeing what happened to my neighbors' sheep. Upon awakening, they found three stray dogs had gotten in the fenced area and torn the ears, bags and pieces out of their five pet sheep. The police did what they could and the Humane Society came out after the dogs had gone.

Why don't the people of this town keep their dogs off the streets. There is supposed to have been a leash law. Two of the dogs had no license and by rights, people should be able to shoot on sight any dogs who come on their property.

These sheep will have to be put away. If it were I, someone would pay. Who ever owns these dogs know they have done something wrong with all the blood and wool they have on them.

Let's get together and put a stop to this, and get these stray dogs off the streets.

School Official Replies To Editorial

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Wednesday, Jan. 6, "County Schools Budgeting Proposal Needs Scrutiny," is both timely and needed.

Perhaps a brief resume will assist further to enlighten your readers.

For several years an ad hoc committee studied County Board of Education fiscal responsibility. The committee's proposal became law in September, 1963. During the 1963 Legislative session both County Administrator Alan Bruce and I observed progress. In November of 1963, the County Board of Supervisors directed the County School Superintendent to report what actions he was going to propose. After several months' study and discussion with the County Board of Education, the Supervisors were informed that further study was needed.

It was mutually agreed that the County Administrator, the Auditor-Controller, the Treasurer-Tax Collector, and the County Counsel be informed if any new information or developments were forthcoming. At every meeting or contact with my fellow County School Superintendents and their staffs by me or other Marin County staff members, the topic was discussed. . . The Marin County Board of Education and I have proceeded to move with caution.

Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Fontez, Mr. Maloney, Mr. Bruce and Mr. Barrows have been kept informed statewide through their professional associations. The San Diego County Administrator, with support from his Board of Supervisors, has developed corrective measures, which include safeguards to the present Legislation. Mr. Bruce and Mr. Barrows have been in close contact with the San Diego contingent. Each agency in Marin County is carefully watching San Diego County's proposed Legislation. Each of us is in close communication with each other. . .

At the December, 1964, meeting of the County Board of Education, it was decided that a brief resume of County Board of Education fiscal responsibility be given in preparation for the detailed description of advantages, disadvantages and operation of a county that has achieved fiscal responsibility.

The Sonoma County School Superintendent, former Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, County Counsel, County Administrator, Auditor-Controller and members of the Sonoma County Board of Education have been invited to make a presentation of fiscal responsibility. Two weeks ago Marin County's Supervisors, all County department heads, all school district personnel, and the press, as well as the staffs of Alameda and Contra Costa school departments were invited to this presentation which will be given Monday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m., Curriculum Laboratory, County Schools Office, Civic Center.

The County Board of Supervisors, County Board of Education, County department heads and County Schools Office and School Districts concur with and commend you in counselling careful study of the law and its impact. Each of us feels that you will acknowledge that the County officials are doing so, and invite you and the general public to our first of many meetings to scrutinize fiscal responsibilities.

Bouquets to Stand On Mass Firing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Bouquets to . . . your editorial, Jan. 22, 1965 on the "Mass Firing Proves To Be A Silly Move." How right you are. Who do the supervisors think they are fooling. Mr. Storer originally presented this idea of "mass liquidation." (A term used in Russia to eliminate those whose ideas do not coincide with those in power.) Also he has to drive too for. . . . "Big Bill," is not the supervisor supposed to devote 90 per cent of his time to the job? What is he going to do when he has to go to court and prepare cases? Anyway, what happens, Mr. Hankin is liquidated because he campaigned for Mr. George Lucy . . . Mr. Wacksman was liquidated because he campaigned for Mr. McInnis . . . Mr. George Scott was liquidated because he represented labor . . .

Another "Bouquet to the Editor," is the column, "County Comments" by William D. "Big Bill" Fusselman. What a County Administrator he would make. . . .

SEALS SURPRISE SCIENTISTS

Seals in Antarctica can dive more than 1,000 feet below the surface of the icy waters according to tests made there recently.

During an expedition to the Antarctic, scientists from Stanford University found that the seals have an extremely well developed sense of navigation for swimming under dangerous ice blocks.

Depth-recording devices were attached to the backs of two seals, who demonstrated their remarkable deep-sea diving ability. They also swam for 19 miles under solid ice without coming up for air. Since light does not penetrate ice, they did it all in pitch darkness.

Previous estimates indicated that seals could navigate less than two miles underwater at a stretch.

The wondrous variety and power that the Creator has hidden in nature constantly surprises us. All that man can do is to discover and develop what the Lord has already provided. Let every true advance of science, therefore, draw you closer to the all-powerful God Who made it possible.

"With God all things are possible."
(Matthew 19:26)

Praise to You, O Lord, for the countless blessings You have hidden in nature for the benefit of man.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

California' Governor's Mansion Doesn't Meet Expectations

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

THE INVITATION says luncheon at the Executive Mansion, followed by a budget briefing.

Sacramento novices like us immediately get visions of a long and stately drive along a palm-lined driveway, past lush gardens and fountains, and winding up in front of the Executive Mansion.

But it's nothing like that at all. It's a three-story wooden structure, perched on the busy Sacramento intersection of 16th and H. In fact, if you drive too rapidly along H, you could miss the "mansion" altogether.

IT'S A VICTORIAN - style structure, which reminds you of some well-preserved three-story homes you find in the older sections of San Rafael.

The interior is ornately furnished—velvet drapes, walls of walnut finish, and fireplaces of Italian marble. But the fireplaces are all sealed.

"They can't be used," Governor Brown hastens to explain. "They're fire hazards."

THE HOME was built in 1877 by a hardware merchant. The state bought it for $32,500 in 1903. Every governor since then has used the mansion as his home.

Lunch was apparently catered in, because the waiters were wearing jackets bearing the name of a catering service. But the silver all bore the Bear Insignia, with the words "Executive Mansion" etched in the back.

FOR A BRIEF moment, we wondered whether any of the silver was ever lost to souvenir seekers. But it was just a fleeting thought, no more.

The budget briefing was straight and to the point.

Hale Champion, finance director, is ideal for such briefings. Having had experience in newspaper and publicity work, he slices through extraneous matter and gets right down to the meat of the matter—in this case to the bare bones.

WHO'S GOING to be the next chairman of the Marin Democratic Central Committee?

Peter Allen Smith used to be, until he was plucked into the municipal court bench.

For the time being, Vice Chairman Hadden Roth will take over. But his work, family and many civic commitments may force Roth to decline the top post.

In which case, it could be one of many others—Bob Carrow of Novato, Bob Harmon or Dick Adams of Belvedere, Hal Truett of San Anselmo, or someone else.

THEY SAY at the Chicago Hilton Hotel that when management was informed that President Lyndon B. Johnson would be a guest for one night and breakfast the following morning, three special chefs were ordered to report at 4 a.m. to whip up a special menu. They were ready to give their all when the president's order came down: Corn flakes and coffee.

A DETROIT SCRIBE, passing by a huddle of 10-year-old boys on a street in a prosperous subdivision, heard one of the kids propose, "Let's toss up to see which ones will be the cops and which ones will be the delinquents!"

"THE BEST IDEAS a man gets, pontificated a professor, "come to him out of the blue. Some people get them just as they're preparing to retire for the night, others while braving the rush hour in the subway."

"I get mine," volunteered a student, "when I'm out with my best girl." Then he added in a more subdued voice, "Of course, she won't always go along with them."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Modern Russ Arms Used In Viet Nam

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The appearance of modern Russian arms in the battle for South Viet Nam is raising serious new military and political questions for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Soviet-made 37-mm. radar-controlled anti-aircraft batteries, which destroyed two of the Air Force's most modern fighter-bombers and damaged 11 others in one U. S. raid, are being installed along the important Communist communication lines and storage areas in Laos and North Viet Nam.

THE UNEXPECTED use of these rapid-fire Soviet anti-aircraft guns, capable of downing the speediest U. S. fighter-bombers, has drastically changed the tactical air situation in the Vietnamese war.

Ambassador Maxwell Taylor, who estimates the new Russian guns will double U. S. air losses, is seeking permission from the president to bomb these Communist strong points at will rather than wait for permission from Washington for each air strike.

At present these tightly controlled air raids are being directed from the office of presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy rather than by Ambassador Taylor, who is supposed to be bossing U. S. military operations in South Viet Nam.

HIGH-RANKING Air Force officers are privately protesting that this long-range political direction of air strikes is making it almost impossible for U. S. authorities in Saigon to take effective action against Communist supply operations.

While these strictly controlled air attacks make big headlines in the U. S. and seemingly indicate a tougher stand by the administration, the officers point out that the military results so far show this impression is highly misleading.

The Air Force officers contend that the air strikes—less than one-third of those requested by Ambassador Taylor — are so limited by the White House that the raids are only delaying and not stopping North Vietnamese supply shipments to the pro-Red Pathet Lao and Viet Cong forces.

THE OFFICERS argue that the mounting toll in U. S. jets isn't worth either the military or political results unless the bombing raids are expanded to include communication and storage targets in North Viet Nam.

By extending the war, they believe the new attacks could immediately cut U. S. air losses by smashing the railroad yards near Hanoi where the Russian-made 37-mm. anti-aircraft guns are being unloaded and assembled, and Vietnamese troops are trained to operate the batteries.

These raids have been opposed by Bundy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the ground such U. S. action would escalate the war rather than bring about the negotiated settlement in South Viet Nam that President Johnson is secretly trying to arrange.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is seriously considering proposing the establishment of a world food bank with the U. S. as the main contributor.

The revolutionary proposal, now on the president's desk awaiting comments from Cabinet members, was drafted by Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman and has the support of Secretary Rusk.

If approved, the president will propose the project in a major speech at the U.N.

IN THE LAST TWO Comments, I referred to the identical articles in two weekly papers which likened the County Administrator to Lazarus and —"From being little more than an errand boy" . . . in 1960 . . ." Bruce has emerged four years later as the most powerful figure in county government and not the least of his prerogatives is the $5,000 raise in pay he received in 1964."

There were so many inquiries about the size of that raise that I decided this was a place to illuminate one of the caverns that have never seen the light of day.

THE COMPLETE STORY of the Administrator's pay raises was promised you and here it is:

Rolling Gravity Car Downtown. Something Of A Pioneer's Task

ROLLING THE GRAVITY car downhill from Old Mill Park to Lytton Square in Mill Valley last Saturday was something of a pioneer's task.

"When it began to rain and we got the car to Bernard and Throckmorton at 11:30 a.m.," said jaycee Jerry Hauke, "I thought maybe we should leave it there and come back another day.

"The police helped with traffic and bystanders came out to help push. It's interesting what you can do without machinery. We used primitive devices, pipes to roll the car on," Hauke added. "But," he said, "we needed more rollers."

TO VOLLMAR F. THONEY it is a pleasure to see the blunt-nosed car in the square. Thoney used to be a sometime "gravity man" when the Mount Tamalpais and Muir Woods Scenic Railway was in operation and says he thinks he is the last locomotive engineer of the railroad alive.

He explained that the locomotive pushed three gravity cars up the mountain at a time. They were loaded, he said, at the Tavern and then coasted down either to Muir Woods or Mill Valley.

Each car had two sets of brakes, one jam brake and one compression. "The cars had a low center of gravity and a safety device if they jumped the track."

RUNNING TIME was about 20 miles per hour and "there were places, such as Fern Canyon or Old Inn Curve where you had to ramble or else get stuck on the flat. If you got stuck the passengers were willing to get out and push. Or if it was too bad, you got the locomotive to push."

Thoney worked from 1920 to 1929 in the day "after the hard hats went out." He said the railroad handled a great deal of pleasure parties, people going up for an afternoon tea or bridge.

"The people were more interested in riding the coaster down than riding the train up," he added. Thoney said the road had the steepest grades in the U. S., running as high as 9 per cent. He was injured once when a locomotive left the track.

WE MET CAESAR, a Great Dane, the other day who was learning to heel on Throckmorton Avenue with his master, John Black. Black said Caesar is 140 pounds, one year four months old and 33 inches at the shoulder. He used to eight cans of horse meat a day while growing, now gets by with four.

Ulla Remak of Sausalito has a dog, Tessie, whom she says is the only dog you can tie a knot around and she will untie it. Then the dog brings the cloth to you "asking" to be tied up again.

THE SAUSALITO Chamber of Commerce, according to president Len Bjorklund, has received a letter from a man in Wilmington, Del., who asks, "Where do they build those houseboats?" The man said he was riding on a train and, picking up a magazine, learned of the boats while reading about last year's ice pick murder.

Signs on the bulletin board at the Tides Bookshop, Sausalito: "Lessons. $5 each. John Stephens." "Wanted! Abode. Habitation. Place to Live. Price Range $40-$60. Contact Ellen . . ." And "Astrologer, 332-3103, After 6 p.m."

ART BUCHWALD

Harsh Measures Are Taken To Get Teachers In Line

WASHINGTON — There is a ruthless conspiracy going on in the United States among our grade and high school teachers and someone must put a stop to it.

Apparently, one of the major homework assignments these days is to have pupils write to someone in a profession and ask him a few hundred questions, such as how he got started, why he chose his work, how much he makes, and what course of study would he recommend to someone wanting to pursue the same work.

I RECEIVE ON the average 10 letters a week from students who have been assigned to interview me by mail. I would probably ignore the letters altogether, except that each student usually points out at the bottom of the letter that if I don't answer his letter he'll flunk the course. Most students give me until Thursday to reply, but some are more pressed and need it on Wednesday.

One time an entire class (40 students) wrote to tell me they had been assigned to find out how I remain fair in my columns. I wrote back that I don't try to remain fair in my columns. The answer was too brief and the teacher gave the class another theme, which was, "Could you please let me know in about 500 words where you get the ideas for your columns?"

The political science teacher had his students ask, "Would you explain the difference between the federal and state court systems?" And a civics teacher suggested his class write to me and find out what I thought about recognition of Red China.

IT TAKES AN average of 15 minutes to answer one of these letters, and since I don't have time to do my own kids' homework, I don't see why I should do the homework of complete strangers.

Therefore, I'm announcing as of today that any teacher who assigns her pupils to write to me as a research project will receive a questionnaire in return.

These are the questions the teacher will be required to answer:

1. How did you decide to go into the teaching profession?
2. Do you like to teach boys or girls better? Why?
3. Could you send me some anecdotes about your favorite pupil?
4. Please tell me the titles and authors of the books that have influenced you as a teacher.
5. Do you try to be fair in your classes? How?
6. Does anyone get mad at anything you say? Please give an illustration.
7. How do you come up with new ideas for your homework assignments every day?
8. What do you think about the new phases of education?
9. What do you think of our position in Viet Nam? The Congo? Cuba?
10. What subjects should someone take if he wants to become a teacher?
11. How much money do you make?
12. Please let me have this no later than next week.

I feel the questionnaire is the only way to make teachers stop assigning their students this type of homework.

FROM NOW ON, whenever I get one of those pleading letters from a student—out goes the questionnaire. If the teacher refuses to answer the questions or flunks the student, I'll list her in my column as a fink-teacher.

A flat 30-cent cash toll for the Golden Gate Bridge was voted by directors, a 10-cent cut.

A 2,500-home planned community in Ignacio, rumored to be a 50 million dollar project, was scheduled to be developed by Trousdale Construction Co. of Los Angeles.

Sharp criticism of county building inspection department practices and suggested reorganization when a public works department is set up were embodied in a survey by County Auditor Leon A. deLisle.

County supervisors killed plans to move the Mill Valley garbage dump to the Muir Beach area and set up a committee to sift facts on county rubbish.

T/3 Frank Keaton of San Rafael, recently awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action, received the Bronze Star for heroic rescue of a wounded comrade.

Prospects were bright for conversion of Camp Taylor property into a state park as a Sacramento committee reapproved appropriation of $35,000 for purchase of the property from Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers.

Sausalito's school board was victorious in a battle to recover the old South School from use as a recreation center for service men. The plan was to use it again for a school.

NEW HOME FOR BANK—Sometime next year, Bank of Marin's headquarters will be moved to the new building pictured above by Crawford and Banning. It will be at Fifth Avenue and B Street, on the site formerly occupied by the Elks Club. Drive-in and walk-up facilities, penthouse community meeting room and office space for other businesses will be included. Construction is expected to start in May.

NEW BUILDING

Bank Of Marin Unveils Plan

Final plans for Bank of Marin's new building to be constructed at Fifth Avenue and B Street in San Rafael were presented to stockholders at their annual meeting last night.

President William P. Murray Jr. said construction bids should be called within the next 60 days. Work should start during May, with completion early in 1966, he said.

The building, designed by architects Crawford and Banning of San Rafael, will be a two-story structure with about 25,000 square feet of floor space. Drive-in facilities and walk-up windows will be housed in a separate building detached from the main offices. Auto entrances will be provided from both Fifth Avenue and B Street, with 50 parking spaces available for bank customers.

The new bank will feature a penthouse community meeting room that will be made available to local groups for meetings. Approximately 4,500 square feet on the second floor will be leased out for office space.

Stockholders at last night's meeting reelected all directors for 1965, and directors meeting later reelected all officers. Murray continues to head the bank with Burton R. Kirchner, Donald F. Murray and William M. Crane as vice presidents; and Adolph L. Nieri as vice president and secretary.

Directors are William P. and Donald F. Murray, Kirchner, Alfred J. Bianchi, Sidney Braverman, Forrest E. Brown, Dolph B. Hill, Lawrence P. McNear and Graham H. McPhail.

Stock Market Closes Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today despite some sharp profit taking in the final minutes. Trading was heavy.

Gains by selected blue chips kept the list in plus territory but fairly sharp losses occurred among recent gainers.

The advance this week tempted many traders to sell and nail down profits in advance of the weekend.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.2 million shares compared with 6.73 million shares yesterday.

The rise was irregular, with selected blue chips providing the steam for the averages. American Cyanamid gained 2, Eastman Kodak more than 1, Union Carbide about a point.

Fractional gains were posted for Chrysler, General Motors, Kennecott, Anaconda, Liggett & Myers, General Electric and Goodyear.

Westinghouse Electric, up nearly a point, looked the volume leader.

Losers spotted the list. Jersey Standard and Homestake were down about a point each. Fractional losers included Bethlehem, Commonwealth Edison, American Airlines, Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, Radio Corp., Boeing and U.S. Rubber.

The Dow Jones industrial average made further progress beyond the 900 line.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds declined.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Make Under $10,000? You Can Use Short Form

by PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Federal form 1040A is the simple tax return. You can use this form if your income was less than $10,000 and was wages reported on W-2s and not more than $200 of income from other wages, dividends, and interest.

Wikel

You may not use form 1040A if you: Had other income; Claim status as head of household; claim status as surviving spouse; claim credit for retirement income; claim credit for dividends; are delinquent in filing your return; claim exclusion for sick pay; do not use the cash method; use a fiscal year; paid an estimated tax during the year; are subject to the self-employment tax; itemize deductions, or your spouse itemizes; claim travel, transportation or other expenses.

If you use form 1040A and your income is under $5,000 you may fill it in and figure the tax yourself from one of the applicable tax tables or the Internal Revenue Service figues your tax. They will always use the standard 10 per cent deduction table and not the minimum standard deduction table. They will send you a bill and this will naturally give you a little longer to pay any tax you may owe. You will be charged interest from April 15, 1965, to the date of payment.

Husband and wife can file a joint return on form 1040A if their combined income does not exceed $10,000.

By using form 1040A you automatically claim either the standard 10 per cent deduction or the minimum standard deduction for personal expenses like contributions, interest, taxes, medical expenses and so on. You do this by your selection of the rate table to use. If your allowable deductions for these items are over 10 per cent of your income, you should use form 1040 and claim them.

You are expected to pay your income tax on the basis of the lowest figure possible; therefore, you should choose the form that results in the lowest tax for you.

NOT MUCH HOPE FOR THE BIG BRUTES

Little Guys Loom Big In S. F. Lucky

Independent-Journal Sports

Friday, Jan. 29, 1965 13

Three little guys shared the lead with two big fellows today in the San Francisco Lucky International Open Golf Tournament. Precedent rules against the bruisers.

No hefty pro ever has captured the top prize in the previous four years of this $57,500 tournament.

The three little guys who carried three-under-par 68s into the second round are Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla.; Butch Baird of Carlton Oaks, Calif., and veteran Gardner Dickinson of Lost Tree Village, Fla. Baird at 150 pounds is the heavyweight of this group.

The comparative Goliaths are George Archer of Gilroy, Calif., and Jack Montgomery of Fort Worth, Tex. Archer is 6-foot-6 — big even for a professional golfer — and Montgomery is 6-2. Each weighs 185 pounds.

Gene Littler and Jack Burke at 165 pounds are the heaviest former winners of the Lucky. Gary Player weighed 150 and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez is only 120, including golf shoes.

Littler started today at Harding Municipal Golf Course at 72, Rodriguez at 73. The two other previous winners are absent.

Billy Casper had a 72 and Tony Lema 73 in the opening round on a day meant for professionals other than favorites.

Billy Martindale of Jacksonville, Tex., was all alone at 69 after 18 holes of the 72-hole event.

There were 10 golfers grouped at 70, a dozen at 71, 22 at 72 and 15 at 73. After today, 90 of 144 pros will be left to play with the 10 amateurs, who were led by Guy Bill's first-round 72, one-over-par for the 19-year-old from Oakland.

Two spectacular misses yesterday caused the crowding at 68.

Dickinson, a 37-year-old 130-pounder, missed a hole-in-one on the 207-yard par-3 eighth hole by two inches. He used a No. 3 iron on the tee shot. He finished with 35-33 on the par 36-35 layout of 6,722 yards. Baird, a transplanted red-haired Texan, made the green of the par-5 ninth hole in two to the applause of a bleacher crowd. Then the 28-year-old missed a 30-foot putt by inches that would have meant an eagle three and the first round lead since he had started on the back nine and this was his last hole.

Montgomery was in the first twosome and for a while braved a fog that would have thwarted Bulldog Drummond. But by the fourth hole the sun was shining for the day. The 23-year-old tour rookie had a 33-35.

Archer also started in fog. Since he won the San Francisco City amateur championship at Harding two years ago, he probably knows the course well enough to play in the dark. His putter was working for 35-33.

McGowan, 34, played the back nine first and took a 32-36. Although some pros complained about bumpy greens caused by heavy rains, McGowan said they were better than he expected.

Baird, formerly of Houston, Tex., had a different, albeit good-natured, complaint.

"All the holes look alike to me," said Baird, "except for the ninth and 18th.

"I was hitting the ball exceptionally well all day and I putted good," added Baird. "It's the best I've hit the ball since I returned to the tour this year after being a club pro at Houston for a year and a half."

A BUSY WEEKEND FOR MARIN'S SPORTS FANS

A big weekend is on tap for Marin County sports fans, with the Sports Injury Conference in San Rafael holding center stage all day tomorrow. Marin Athletic League basketball action presenting two games tonight and the College of Marin Tars, California's hottest junior college quintet, returning to action tonight and tomorrow night.

The Sports Injury Conference opens at 8 a.m. tomorrow at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant with a series of panels and featured speeches by ex-grid star Gordy Soltau and All-American Craig Morton of California on the agenda.

Marin's Tars will be shooting for their 15th straight win against Siskiyous College tonight at Kentfield.

On the prep scene it's Marin Catholic at Redwood and San Rafael at Terra Linda with Class B preliminary games starting at 7 o'clock.

Details of the Sports Injury Conference and tonight's basketball action are on page 15.

Musical Hit Parade For Giants; Prep Coach Shows Players How

San Francisco Chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America plans a series of skits and parodies on popular songs for part of their annual banquet Feb. 14 at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

Which means that the I-J's old Bullpenner John J. Connolly, now in winter hibernation, must be sharpening his needle for a few "love" songs directed toward some of his favorite baseball figures.

MIKE DIAZ

I'd like to suugest a few ditties that Jawn Jay might warble into the mike. He can get away with it because, as he laughs, "I'm too old to fight and too fat to run."

Anyway, here are some of my contributions to the baseball hit parade:

"So Long, It's Been Good To Know You" for Alvin Dark; "Lazy Days of Summer" for Willie McCovey; "Stars Spangled Banner" for Jose (Can You See?) Pagan; "Cheek to Cheek" for Harvey (Copenhagen) Kuenn; I Get A Kick Out Of You" or "My Juan-derful Juan" for Mr. Marichal; "Young At Heart" for bridegroom Walter Mails; "Music For Young Glovers" for all the rookies; "You Gotta Have Hart" for Jim Ray You-Know-Who; "Rhapsody In Boo" for the dear umps; "Little Things Mean A Lot" for 5-9, 155-pound Matty Alou; "It All Depends On You" for Willie Mays; "Baby, It's Cold Outside" for all the fans; "Talk To Me" for Russ and Lon; "All The Way" for Herman Franks; "A Wing And A Prayer" for Jack Sanford; "Japanese Sand Man" for Masanori Murakami; and "If At First You Don't Succeed" for Orlando Cepeda.

Incidentally, Mays will receive an award at the St. Valentine's evening affair as the 1964 N. L. homer champion. The scribes might present it to the tune of "Gone With The Wind" or "The Breeze And I."

MIKE DIAZ is one basketball coach who gets out and practices what he preaches.

His San Rafael High Bulldog cagers could have learned a good lesson in shooting from their coach Wednesday night when Diaz, playing for the San Rafael Faculty team in the local recreation league, tallied 30 points to lead his team to victory.

Diaz, by the way, still holds a free throw record for the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley. In 1953, when he starred for Armijo High, Mike potted 13 charities in one game and totalled 25 for the tourney.

MARIN ROD AND Gun Club's nifty new brochure on local outdoors life shows a picture of a woman clutching a freshly-taken abalone at one of Marin's coastal areas.

You can bet her abalone was legal, too. It's Mrs. Al Giddings, wife of the Game Warden.

The Rod-Gun brochure, by the way, is a dandy. It extolls the virtues of the local fish and game world, featuring a big map of all the county's fishin' spots, plus items of interest on hunting and activities and facilities of the MRGC.

The club plans to saturate the area with these brochures in an effort to boost its membership, which already is well over the 2,000 mark and still growing.

Fontan Hero For Tam

A foul shot by unsung Greg Fontan with two seconds left provided the margin of victory in Tamalpais High's 56-55 upset over the slump-ridden Drake Pirates last night in a Marin Athletic League basketball thriller before a packed house in the Tam gymnasium.

Fontan, who scored only six points on the night, was awarded two free throws after he was fouled attempting to make a desperation shot by Drake's Larry Stein, the grid hero. Greg made the first one and missed the second, but it was enough to give the Indians the win for a 3-3 record and drop Drake to its third straight loss and also a 3-3 record. Just a week ago today the Pirates were in first place; now they're a game and a half behind Redwood (4-1).

After Drake overcame an early 12-point deficit to tie it up at the end of the third quarter, it was a see-saw race down to the wire last night. The Pirates forged into a 50-46 edge in the final quarter, but Tam came back to knot it up on a pair of charities by Pete Nelson and a bucket by the red-hot Larry Gary. Minutes later Tam had a 55-53 lead on a foul shot by Gray, but a swisher by Drake's Will Curley knotted it up and set the stage for Fontan's heroics.

GRAY HERO

When the dust from this thriller settled, Tam's Gray once again emerged as the hero with a 25-point performance, giving him a total of 73 points for the past three games and a six-game league average of 18 plus.

Gray, the veteran 5-11 senior guard, hit 11 of his 18 floor shots last night as the Indians enjoyed uncanny accuracy from the field, bucketing 23 of 43 attempts for 53 per cent. Greg Tellis was the only other Indian in double figures with 10.

Drake was carried by Junior Bill Ingram and Rick Henika with 15 and 13 points, respectively.

In the Class B game last night Mike Biber's 10 points led the Tam Li'l Injuns to a 37-29 victory over Drake.

Torrid Wildcats Humble Dons

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The humiliated University of San Francisco Dons limped off for a day of rest today while basketball teams elsewhere on the West Coast plunged into a full weekend schedule after a week off for final examinations.

The Dons, ranked sixth nationally in the United Press International poll of coaches, took a 71-65 pasting last night from the Wildcats of the University of Arizona. The Wildcats connected on 56 per cent of their shots in the first half to take a 34-30 halftime lead, and they wrapped up the contest with a .450 shooting average.

"They sure as heck played like a member of the top ten tonight," USF coach Pete Peletta said after the game. "I was impressed."

The Dons now are 12-2 on the season, with one prior loss to upstart Santa Clara. The Wildcats are 13-4.

USF continues its road trip tomorrow when it meets Arizona State at Tempe, and on Tuesday it journeys to Tulsa.

In tonight's action, first-ranked UCLA takes on Iowa in a non-conference game at Chicago.

The only conference game in the Pacific Eight has Oregon State at Oregon. USC is at Denver.

Other games tonight: San Jose State at Wyoming, Long Beach State at Los Angeles State, Hayward State at Sacramento State, San Diego State at San Fernando Valley State, San Francisco State at Nevada and Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo at Fresno State.

The University of Seattle Chieftains defeated Portland University, 78,70, on Thursday night, giving the Chieftains their seventh consecutive win over the Pilots since 1962.

Stanford scored an easy 87-57 win over UC Santa Barbara in Thursday's other major action.

Venturi Out For 6 Weeks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — National Open champion Ken Venturi of San Francisco will be off the golf circuit for about six weeks, his physician reports.

Venturi has been troubled recently by circulatory problems in his hands — especially in the fingers of his right hand.

Dr. Robert Woods disclosed yesterday that the golfer underwent surgery a day earlier to confirm a diagnosis of inflammation of the arteries. The operation, performed in Good Samaritan Hospital, involved 15 stitches in Venturi's back and another dozen in his legs.

Venturi, who has been bothered by the ailment for nearly a month, told a sports writer:

"I took a large step backwards when I played in the cold at Pebble Beach. I'm not going to play again until Dr. Woods tells me to."

Dr. Woods, a team physician for the Los Angeles Dogers, compared Venturi's case with the ailment that sidelined Dodger pitcher Sandy Koufax in 1962. But he said Venturi's was more extensive.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT! WARRIORS END DIVE

By United Press International

The "new" San Francisco Warriors snapped the National Basketball Association's longest losing streak last night with a convincing victory over one of the league's top teams before 3,335 partisan fans at U.S.F.

The Warriors, who became just a team of good pro ballplayers when they traded away the great Wilt Chamberlain two weeks ago, walloped the Cincinnati Royals, 105-90. The Cincinnati club boasts such stars as Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas.

The San Francisco team carried a record of 17 consecutive losses into the contest, but was in complete control as the Warriors rolled to their first victory since Dec. 18.

They jumped into a 30-16 lead in the first quarter behind the shooting and rebounding of Nate Thurmond, who took over Chamberlain's spot at center. San Francisco upped the count to 57-36 at the half as guard Paul Neumann, obtained from Philadelphia in the trade for Wilt, came off the bench to score 11 points.

The Warriors opened the third period with nine straight points before Lucas sparked a blazing Cincinnati rally which closed the gap to 89-86 with 4:33 to go in the game. But then Gary Phillips tallied six points as he led the Warriors back with 12 straight to cinch the victory.

Thurmond led all scorers with 30 points, while Lucas was high for the Royals with 27.

The Cincinnati - San Francisco contest was the only one played Thursday.

Giants Sign Four Youths

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants announced today the signing of four young infielders for the 1965 season.

They are second baseman Larry Edmundson and shortstops Bob Holbert, Bob Schroder and John Buchanan. Edmundson, 23, the most experienced of the four, hit .265 for Springfield in the Eastern League last season.

Conference Bans AFL; New Episode In Footabll War

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Darrell Royal and the Southeastern Conference have no love for the American Football League. AFL Commissioner Joe Foss doesn't like redshirting. George Sauer Jr. has no scholarship and Darrell Royal doesn't have Geogge Sauer Jr.

That was the linescore today in the latest installment of what appears to be an endless controversy in present-day football.

Moving from secret drafts to double signings to early signings, football has arrived at Sauer, a star pass receiver on Royal's Texas team who has

BASHFUL YOUNG PRO SOLD SHARES IN SELF

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — "The toughest thing I ever did in my life," says bashful Rocky Thompson, "was to go out and sell shares in myself so that I could take a crack at the pro golf tour."

What Rocky, a 25-year-old super-salesman from Wichita Falls, Tex., did was to slice himself up into 18 shares and peddle them for $1,200 each—or $600 for a half share.

This comes to $21,600, and is supposed to keep him on the tour for three years, at least part-time. It usually costs about $10,000 a year to stick with the tour.

Whatever Thompson makes goes back to the investors, and so far the interest rate has been pretty good. Since the first of the year, Rocky has collected $2,013—most of it coming in the Bing Crosby last week.

That's much better than he did in 1964, when he joined the tour in summer after graduating from Houston University. During the next six months he won only $1,151.98.

"But I had faith in myself," he says. "I had to find out if I could hold my own with the best. So I sold the shares—17 of them to men in Wichita Falls and one to a man in Dallas."

If Rocky holds his own with the champion pros, it will be better than he did with the amateurs at Houston University—known as the "golf factory" for the many fine golf pros it turns out.

"We had a six-man team there," he says. "I was the seventh man. On it were such guys as Homero Blancas, Kermit Zarley, Fred Marti and Dick Crawford, among others."

All except the No. 1 man, Blancas, are now on the pro tour — and Blancas probably would be if he were not in the service."

Last year Rocky hooked up with another rookie looking for fame and fortune — a fellow named Dick Sikes. Sikes, from Springdale, Ark., had a sponsor, Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns football team.

Thompson didn't have any, and a six-foot putt that might bring $100 in eating money or caddy fees sometimes looked 60 feet long. He needed the money. Sikes didn't and he went on to become "rookie of the year" after winning the $77,777 Sahara Invitational in Las Vegas, picking up $12,000.

Sikes and Thompson aren't unique in golf circles when it comes to having sponsors. British Open champion Tony Lema, National Open champion Bill Casper and many other big names were financed by investors when they went on the tour.

Both Lema and Casper paid big dividends.

Sikes is proving a better investment for Modell than his football team.

Thompson has yet to prove he will return a dividend. But if he flops, he'll make someone a heck of a fine salesman.

A. F. Scandal; Doesn't Everyone Cheat?

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Do you cheat?

That's a harsh question and it's prompted by the Air Force Academy scandal now going on in Colorado.

The answer apparently is harsher yet because professional survey takers, whose business it is to unearth such information, claim it's virtually impossible for a human being to go through an entire life-time without ever cheating in some manner or other.

To cheat, according to the dictionary, is to "practice fraud or trickery," and unfortunately that practice is fairly common in many sports, both professional and amateur alike.

The pro football clubs cheat when they sign players or even come to an agreement with them before their college terms are up, and that goes on all the time.

The schools themselves frequently have been found guilty of cheating in their recruiting methods.

They cheat in baseball, too, not only by trying to steal signs from inside the scoreboard, but also in such little things as neglecting to touch second base on double plays and first basemen pulling their feet off the bag too early on infield outs.

Joe Dey, Executive Director of the U.S. Golf Association, says a great number of golfers do not stick completely to the rules.

Maybe those golfers do so in ignorance, and maybe they don't, but no matter how you slice it, that's still cheating.

One cross-country runner of our acquaintance is upset even though he always follows the prescribed route, because he knows others who take a short cut through the woods and even accept medals at the finish line.

That's cheating, too.

The present Air Force Academy scandal is similar, but not identical to the one in which 90 cadets, including many varsity football players, were dismissed from West Point in 1951.

In the Air Force scandal, test information was sold by a group; in the West Point scandal, the information was passed along from one cadet to another for nothing. It was called "cribbing" then, but the net result was the same.

Both West Point and the Air Force Academy live by the Honor Code.

Simply stated, the Code's basic tenets are that no cadet will lie, cheat or steal, and every cadet is honor bound to report any breach of the code.

Coast Colleges Lift Track Ban

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Athletic Conference has changed its mind and has decided to lift its ban prohibiting its athletes from taking part in non-conference competition until March 1.

The Athletic Association of Western Universities, official name for the PAC, announced yesterday that the reversal means that PAC schools may enter representatives in indoor track and field meets before March 1 if they so desire, the AAWU office said.

The action reverses a decision of a week ago that the AAWU would stand by its rules barring non-collegiate participation in any but federation-sanctioned events until the effective date of the recent National Collegiate Athletic Association legislation of a similar nature.

Earlier this month in Chicago the NCAA approved legislation forbidding athletes of member schools from entering non-federation competition after March 1, 1965.

Last Friday the AAWU voted to continue in effect its rules of 1962:

That AAWU personnel can not serve in any Amateur Athletic Union capacity; AAWU institutions may not make their facilities available to any event not sanctioned by the federation, and AAWU teams and individuals are restricted to collegiate events and federation-sanctioned events.

On Thursday the San Francisco AAWU office announced:

"AAWU President Robley C. Williams of the University of California announced Thursday that a change of the mail vote conducted by the Athletic Association of Western Universities has changed the effective date of conference resolutions regarding non-collegiate competition to correspond to the recently established NCAA effective date of March 1, 1965. Member institutions may follow their own individual policies regarding non-collegiate competition until March 1, 1965."

World's Fastest Human

By BOB GREEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Perry, 19-year-old son of a New York janitor, had just equaled the world's indoor record for the 60-yard dash, 5.9 seconds, and was being besieged by reporters.

"It feels good," the Fordham junior said in answer to the inevitable question: "How do you feel?"

"It feels good to be the world's fastest human."

If there was any malice, any small dart aimed at Bob Hayes, it wasn't apparent. Sam said it with a straight face. Hayes, the Florida A&M flash who set the record in New York a year ago and then won the Olympic 100 meters, had proudly worn that title for two years.

Now he's turned pro and off the indoor track circuit, but still very much on young Sam's mind.

"The competition isn't as severe this year," said Perry, who missed the Olympics because of a leg injury. "That makes it tougher on me. There's no one pushing me. I have to push myself .That's tough."

It certainly didn't look tough last night when Perry won the 60 before a crowd of 15,952 watching the Wanamaker-Millrose Games in Madison Square Garden.

The four finalists in the 60 had to sweat out two false starts before they got away. Perry, running against Olympic sprinters Paul Drayton and Mel Pender, and Ed Roberts, got a good start and had a clear-cut lead by 30 yards. He won it by at least a yard and with the victory nailed down the award as the meet's outstanding athlete.

Was he shooting for a 5.9, equaled only by Hayes?

"Every time I go off the blocks I'm leaping at 5.9," he said.

Perry, overshadowed by Hayes for two years and knocked out of the Olympics by his leg trouble, was easily the highlight of a surprisingly so-so meet that opened a three- city, three-meet indoor track weekend.

He's skipping the Telegram-Maple Leaf Games in Toronto tonight, but will be in Boston for the Boston A.A. Games Saturday.

Bill Crothers, the Toronto pharmacist who won the half-mile easily by 10 yards in 1:51.2, is going to make all three. Crothers, unbeaten indoors this winter, said:

"I'm not going for any records now. I'm just running for fun.

Conference Puts Ban On AFL

relinquished his college scholarship in anticipation of a professional cotract with the New York Jets of the AFL

Royal is incensed that Sauer, son of Jets' personnel director George Sauer Sr., would pass up his final season of eligibility at Texas to turn pro. Sauer has the 1965 season left — even though his original class graduates in June — because he was redshirted as a sophomore in 1962.

A redshirt is a player who is withheld from varsity competition for one season, usually in his sophomore year, in the hope he can be of more help to his team in his fifth year of school.

Sauer declined to say last night whether he will sign a proncontract but did say, "I definitely will not use my fifth year of football eligibility at Texas."

PAYS TUITION

He also said he has moved from his room in the athletic dormitory and has paid his own tuition and fees for the spring semester. He will need only 10 credits after the spring term for graduation as a mathematics major.

Royal doesn't want to lose Sauer.

"We've wet nursed him through three years and toughed him up and now just when we're getting ready to capitalize on him, bam, he's gone," the coach said.

But Royal also threatened to bar all AFL personnel from Texas practice fields, dressing rooms and press boxes if the Jets sign Sauer now.

The Jets, incidentally, say they didn't go to Sauer but that he announced his interest in turning pro immediately.

If the pass catcher does go with the Jets, he by no means will be the first collegian to pass up a final year of eligibility. At least eight fellow redshirts already have signed with teams in both leagues for the 1965 season.

Although the Southeastern Conference did not concern itself with the Sauer affair, it did vote to sever relations with the AFL because of the league's stand on early signings of college players.

AFL BARRED

The conference's sports pubpicity directors, acting at the request of the schools' athletic directors and coaches, passed a resolution stating they will refuse to cooperate with AFL epresentatives in any way.

AFL people will not be permitted in SEC facilities and will not be provided with information about pro prospects playing for SEC schools.

Conference spokesmen said the action was taken because the AFL refused to say it would stop signing collegians before their entire seasons were over. The NFL made such a change in its constitution at the request of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

An AFL official, however, pointed out last night that the league didn't refuse to stop such signings but contended instead that a meeting of the two leagues with the NCAA was necessary to iron out the situation.

Earlier in the day, Commissioner Foss attacked the practice of redshirting and defended the right of a boy to earn a living as a pro football player, engineer or chemist after four years of college.

Ex-Aide Named New Grid Coach At Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Carmen Cozza, an assistant the past two years, was named Yale's 32nd head football coach today.

Cozza succeeds his former boss, John Pont, who resigned exactly a week ago to become head football coach at Indiana University and strongly recommended Cozza, 34, as his successor.

DeLaney Kiphuth, Yale athletic director said:

"It is a source of great satisfaction to have Carmen Cozza assume the duties of head football coach at Yale. He is highly respected by the varsity squad members and in his two years at Yale, he has won the admiration of the Yale Athletic Association family. The future of Yale football is in very capable hands."

Kiphuth stressed that this was not an intermediate appointment. Although the financial terms were not announced, as usual, Cozza probably signed for some $14,000 a year.

Nothing was said immediately about Cozza's assistants.

Yale athletic officials had narrowed the choice of the university's new head football coach down to Joe Paterno, associate coach at Penn State, and Cozza.

Paterno decided to remain at Penn State, however, where he is in line to succeed Rip Engle, when Engle retires.

Cozza and Pont have been associated as player and coach for some 19 years. While together at Miami, Ohio, University, Cozza was a defensive back while Pont was building a reputation as the greatest back in the history of the midwestern school.

After graduation in 1952, Cozza played professional baseball and four years later, when Pont was named to succeed Ara Parseghian as head coach at Miami, Cozza went there as Pont's freshman football coach.

Cozza was promoted to backfield coach within a few years and followed Pont to Yale in 1963, where he served as Pont's chief assistant.

Franks, Unlike Dark, Calls On Boss To Talk Over Problems

HANLEY

Since the turn of the century the Giants have had only eight managers but there is no present day security in the job. The first four managers reigned more than half a century, the last three less than a decade.

John McGraw ruled with an iron hand from 1902-32. Bill Terry's tenure spanned 1932-41. Mel Ott managed the team from 1942-48. Leo Durocher from 1948-56. Since then Bill Rigney, Tom Sheehan and Alvin Dark have been in and out of a revolving manager's chair.

So why would Herman Franks want to become No. 8 in such a job? Certainly not for money and definitely not security because he already has both in successful Salt Lake City business enterprises.

Is it a case of a man with a solid baseball background having to prove something to himself? Perhaps, a sense of pride in accepting a challenge?

"PERHAPS," said Franks, "that's it. But I've thought about managing a major league club all my life. And now, at 50, I'm getting my chance and with a club that is loaded with talent. Not only that but my heart always has been with the Giants. You know, I've been in the organization since 1949 except a couple of years when business kept me in Salt Lake."

Franks then reminisced about his long friendship with Horace Stoneham. He knows that friendship with the president of the ball club will not guarantee him any longevity in his new job if he isn't successful.

"THAT'S THE way it should be," said Franks. "That's why I wanted only a one year contract. As I said before, I may not want to come back at the end of the year and Horace might not want me. But, believe me, whichever way it works out we'll still be friends."

Obviously, from the way Franks talks he is no yes man. However, he won't hesitate to visit the front office weekly and discuss problems with his boss. Franks believes in making his own decisions but also believes "the owner of any ball club has a right to discuss his team with the manager."

IN THE four months since his appointment last Oct. 4 as manager of the Giants, Franks has made more front office calls than Dark did in four years. It was that lack of liaison that cost Dark his job and opened the way for Franks to become the eighth manager of the Giants since the glory days of John McGraw.

IT'S CALLED THE 'DRIFTER'

Boat show queen Dori Lane displays the "Drifter," world's smallest transistor phonoradio which will be exhibited at the San Francisco Sports and Boat Show Feb. 5-14 at the Cow Palace. It plays either 45 of 33⅓ phonograph records, operates on batteries and will play anywhere. It's ideal for boats and the beach.

BACK TO WORK FOR MARINERS

The College of Marin Tar cagers, after a two week layoff because of final exams, get back to Golden Valley Conference action this weekend with a pair of home games.

Tonight the Tars will host Siskiyous in Kentfield's gym at 8 o'clock and tomorrow will take on Shasta in the second half of the home weekend slate. That game will also start at 8 o'clock.

Although not seeing action the past two weeks, the Tars moved from 12th to No. 9 in the state Junior College basketball rankings as compiled by JC Sportswire in San Francisco.

Marin's record is a blistering 16-2 on the season and 3-0 in conference play. The Tars are riding high on a 14-game victory streak, the longest skein in the state.

But this weekend will mark the last two Marin games for highscoring Tar guard Brad Busch who will lose his playing eligibility at the semester break. He's averaged about 20 points per game for Marin and will be missed.

Siskiyous is blessed with the same kind of bad luck, as that school will also miss the services—at semester break—of its top scorer, guard George Corder, who is carrying a 12.7 average with 210 points. The Eagles from Siskiyous carry a balanced scoring attack. Center Bob Corson, guard Gene Landoe and forward Cecil Dillard all carry averages of around 10 points per game.

Siskiyous is in second place in the Golden Valley Conference with a 2-1 mark.

The other big scorer in the Marin attack is guard Jay Johnson who has been averaging about 19 points per game. The front line is made up of center Fred Arnold and forwards Jim Halm and Bill Brody.

Chuvalo Fit And Ready For Floyd

Chuvalo was scheduled to complete his heavy work yesterday but changed his plans and decided not to box. He underwent a physical and was declared "well-conditioned and ready to go" by Dr. Harry Kleiman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Patterson boxed four rounds at his Marlboro, N.Y., camp yesterday and said he might do some more work today. He will break camp Sunday.

2 Games Tonight On Prep Cage Schedule

San Rafael is at Terra Linda High School and Redwood is at Marin Catholic in Kentfield tonight in a pair of Marin Athletic League basketball games.

Class B teams will start the evening rolling at both locations at 7 o'clock. The varsity games will follow.

Redwood, sporting a 4-1 winloss record, will be trying to keep its hold on first place in the league standings. It will be a battle between the top and bottom, as Marin Catholic and its 1-4 record are resting in the league cellar. But the Wildcats will be after blood and have the advantage of the home court.

San Rafael is hoping for a victory coupled with a Redwood loss. The Bulldogs, 3-2 in league play, could tie for first place if that came about. Terra Linda, upset winner of Novato Tuesday 55-44, has a 2-3 record in the MAL. The underdog Trojans will also have the home court advantage.

Mrs. Quilici Is Tourney Winner

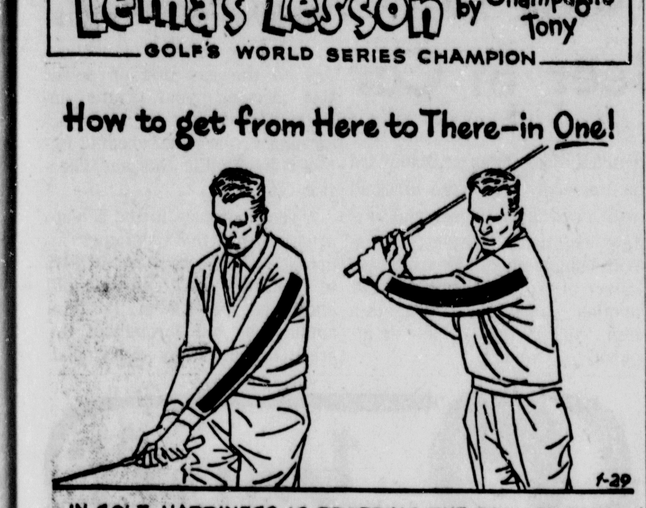

Mrs. Al Quilici's net 80 won the Meadow Club's medal sweepstakes golf tournament yesterday.

Class A—Mrs. Quilici, 99-19—80; Mrs. Norman Green, 95-14—81; Mrs. Cliff Morrill, 99-18—81; Mrs. John McGee, 97-16—81.

New Move To Outlaw Firearms; Fine Bass Angling Is Forecast

STEVENS

It's been more than a year since that tragic day in Dallas when the president of the United States was shot and killed.

Almost immediately after a movement to tighten the existing gun laws was started by the anti gun-cranks, and easily-swayed non-shooters got busy. Some hysterical suggestions were made, all of which were slanted toward anybody and everybody having a gun of any description. Some groups insisted that all guns be registered when purchased.

I noted in a late release from the monthly newsletter of Outdoors Unlimited, that a scribe from Sharon (Pa.) took a dig at California, saying: "The anti-gun cranks and 'do-gooders' are on the prowl again. They would take away the right of American citizens to bear arms for recreational purposes . . . the worst movement of all is one coming from California, which would make it unlawful for any citizen other than police to own a fire arm of any kind."

You may laugh at such extremism. But remember that prohibition was made a law while millions of men of drinking age had no say in the matter; the law was pushed through without consulting the men under arms.

AS FAR as I know this particular movement has not been publicized, but there could well be such a movement, don't you think? Think it over, discuss it with other target shooters or hunters. If you get hot under the collar, maybe you will drop a hint to your senators and representatives. You might even get a group together and send a letter signed by the entire group.

THE BASS fishing prospects for the weekend: The water is clearing nicely, the winds seem to have blown themselves out and, considering what has happened from Sunday on, it's safe to forecast some really good angling — always providing high winds don't mess things up.

Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina called a while ago to report that the largest fish brought in on Tuesday was taken by J. Yates and weighed 35 pounds, on bullheads near the Radar Screen. On the same day Al Sieling won a battle with a 30-pounder while fishing aboard the party boat, Two Dares, near Buoy 7. Angler Ikeda and friend continues his string of limits with limits to 20 pounds near Buoy 6.

On Wednesday Carl reported ideal conditions for fishing. Two lads in two hours limited out with a top striper going 18 pounds.

FINE, FAT flounders are in evidence in the upper San Pablo, and that brings a sad, sad story of Joe Austin. Joe landed a nice 25 pound bass and a flock of flounders, but Joe, in stringing the 25-pound bass, neglected to tie the stringer, so the bass and flounders calmly swam away. I sympathize with Joe. A lady friend with whom I was fishing aboard a private cruiser followed my instructions and made a mighty cast. However, Diana Dutton forgot to hold onto the rod, so it went to join the bait.

That's it for today. Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Old Timer Who Invented Baseball Catching Dies

NEWBERG, Ore. (AP) — The man who invented catching—as the baseball players say—died yesterday. He would have been 90 Monday.

Doctors said a heart ailment took the life of Billy Sullivan, the White Sox baseball star at the turn of the century.

Before he came along, baseball catchers stood 20 feet behind home plate, out of danger from foul tips.

Sullivan is credited with inventing the first chest protector and moving into the position catchers still use.

He came out of Fort Atkinson, Wis., to play professional baseball in 1897. After a year at Dubuque, Iowa, and another at Columbus, Ohio, he went to the major leagues in 1899.

After two years with the Boston Braves, he went to the Chicago White Sox, where he caught the first game played in Comiskey park. That was in 1901, the first season for the then-outlawed American League

He led the Sox to a title that year and again in 1906. He was the home run king of the Sox that year. He had two. The team had a total of five. The 1906 team won the World Series from the rival Chicago Cubs.

Sullivan played 1,141 major league games. He eventually became a playing manager of the Sox with whom he stayed until 1914. He spent the next year with Detroit, then retired to a 20-acre farm near Newberg, where he spent the rest of his life.

Foyt Expects To Return To Race Tracks March 28

HOUSTON (AP) — A. J. Foyt Jr., the national driving champion, said yesterday he expects to return to the track March 28 in a 150-mile race at Phoenix, Ariz.

"Doctors tell me I can drive again in about six weeks," Foyt said in an interview at Methodist Hospital.

The two-time Indianapolis winner received serious injuries in a Jan. 17 stock car race at Riverside, Calif. He was flown to Houston, his home town, Sunday.

"It was the worst accident I've ever been in," Foyt said. "Doctors in California told me if I hadn't been in such good physical condition I'd probably have been killed."

Foyt was injured on the 170th lap of a 185-lap race when his brakes went out.

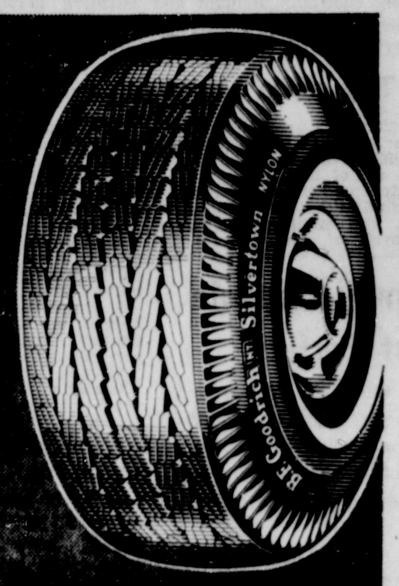

"They've found out the self-adjusting brake system became unscrewed," Foyt said. "It was just one of those freak things." Foyt received a fractured heel, several bruises and a cracked ninth vertebra.

CHURCHILL BIER VISITED BY RUSK

U.S. Delegation Pays Homage To British Wartime Leader; Funeral Set Tomorrow

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. delegation to Sir Winston Churchill's funeral paid him homage today at Westminster Hall.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk led the Americans. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was expected to visit the bier late in the afternoon.

The American delegation stood in silence for five minutes before the flag-draped coffin.

In addition to Rusk, the American mourners included:

W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador in London and Moscow and a friend of Churchill's; Chief Justice Earl Warren who some reporters mistook for Eisenhower, and U.S. Ambassador David Bruce.

An official at the U.S. Embassy said Eisenhower did not go to Westminster Hall with the American delegation because he is a private guest of the Churchill family.

At the other end of London, the Duke of Norfolk directed a final rehearsal at St. Paul's Cathedral for Sir Winston's funeral tomorrow.

The Duke, Britain's Earl Marshal in charge of arrangements for the state funeral, said: "I think it has gone well."

The line of mourners moved silently through Westminister Hall. Many paused for a few moments beside the catafalque.

Early in the day the number of mourners reached 200,000.

Of the 133 nations invited to send representatives to the state funeral, only one nation had declined — Communist China. Another Communist country, Mongolia, said its ambassador, who lives in Warsaw, was ill but may yet attend.

At least six monarchs, four presidents and 14 prime ministers were expected to be among the vast throng of international figures who will join more than a million others in Britain's largest funeral since that of King George VI in 1952.

The governments of 17 British colonial territories or protectorates will also be represented in the procession.

The American delegation arrived last night and is headed by Rusk and Chief Justice Earl Warren. With them came Eisenhower and W. Averell Harriman, now U.S. undersecretary of state.

Apso aboard the plane was Mrs. Lewis Douglas, wife of the wartime U.S. ambassador to London, and her daughter, Sharman. The Churchill family had invited them.

Queen Elizabeth II paid another unique tribute to the man who had served Britain since the reign of her great-great-grandmother, Queen Victoria.

Dressed in black, the queen and her sister, Princess Marvaret, went to Westminster Hall with their husbands, Prince Philip and Viscount Snowdon. They remained for five minutes.

British monarchs normally do not honor commoners in such fashion.

Lady Churchill also paid a visit to the hall last night, as she has done every night since Sir Winston's body was brought there Tuesday night.

Canada is building its first railway to reach into the Northwest Territories.

Teachers To Hear Choir Sing

More than 200 children from St. Paul's Episcopal Church Junior Choir and the Glee Club of the Marin Country Day School will give a demonstration of elementary school music tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the San Rafael Military Academy.

The occasion is the annual teachers' institute of the Episcopal Diocese of California, which opened at the academy at 9:30 a.m. today and ends at noon tomorrow.

Barry Mineah, organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's Church and director of music at the day school, will direct the demonstration.

A panel discussion at 7:30 p.m. today on "The Committed Teacher" is open to the public. Speaker will be Alfred N. Thomson, principal of San Rafael High School; Peter Rothermel, headmaster of Marin Country Day School; Rev. David Forbes, headmaster of Cathedral School for Boys, San Francisco, and Dr. Sumner Walters, headmaster of San Rafael Military Academy. Moderator will be Edwin L. Blackmore of the county schools office.

Police Cite Boy, 16, In Chase; Beer In Car

A 16-year-old Tiburon Peninsula boy was chased in his car at speeds up to 60 miles an hour down Tiburon Boulevard and winding Paradise Drive last night by Belvedere police.

Officer William Fraass reported the youth car almost struck two pedestrians and another auto during the wild ride about 10:45 p.m.

Fraass first noted the car speeding along Tiburon Boulevard in the Belvedere city limits and gave chase. He stopped it when the youthful driver turned into a dead-end street in Tiburon.

The boy, who resides in the unincorporated area of the peninsula, was charged with speeding and reckless driving. Two six packs of beer found in the trunk of the car added the charge of possession of alcoholic beverages. Three other 16-year-olds in the car were released to their parents.

Two other 16-year-olds, from Tiburon and Mill Valley, were later picked up by police as they walked along Tiburon Boulevard in Belvedere and were charged with possession of beer and curfew violation. They said they had bought the beer from the driver of the car—who then had another charge lodged against him, contributing to the delinquency of minors.

In Afghanistan, American firms are building a highway down to Kandahar from Kabul, the capital.

Gas Rates Decrease With More Customers

When the number of customers on the gas line or power line serving your home increases, the rates go down, according to the rate schedule followed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

A recent survey in the Novato area showed that customer increases will justify a cut of $815 in the total yearly electric bill and a cut of $135 in the total annual gas bill throughout the area, the company announced.

Trustees Refuse To Commit Themselves On Pay Hikes

Trustees of the Marin Junior College District refused again last night to commit themselves on a faculty request for a 13 per cent increase in salaries.

Action on an eight-point report on the salary schedule revisions was postponed after its second discussion of the matter. Robert A. Becklund, head of the faculty association's salary committee, presented the report.

Trustees said the tentative budget for the 1966 fiscal year must be completed before action on salaries.

Trustees indicated their support of district participation in a medical health insurance program.

They agreed to include the cost of the proposed salary increases as an alternate in the tentative budget.

Trustee Kent O. Seymour said he would be reluctant to approve offering contracts to night and summer school and part-time faculty members on a professional pro-rata salary schedule as requested by the salary committee.

Seymour recalled he had voted to reduce the teaching load from 18 to 15 class hours a week last year.

"If we have some instructors who go out and teach elsewhere after we reduce their teaching hours, I would be very upset and would like to know about it," he said.

John Myers, chairman of the music department, argued that the same quality of teaching was required for the regular day classes, summer school and evening classes.

Part-time, night and summer school teachers receive less pay, figured on an hourly basis, than the regular teachers.

Representatives of salary committees for classified and administrative personnel said their proposals on salaries would be presented later.

The Marin Junior College Board Also:

1. Adopted a resolution bringing the district's hiring policy in compliance with the federal civil rights act of 1964.
2. Accepted the resignation of custodian Luther Brown of Richmond, and employed Reginald T. Royall of San Rafael and Harry Sullivan Sr. of San Anselmo as custodians at $425 per month.
3. Employed Laura Escola of Fairfax as dental assistant instructor for the spring semester at $3,000.
4. Reclassified Joyce C. Mattos of Santa Venetia, a typist clerk, raising her salary to $400 per month.
5. Employed Craig Hansen of Bolinas as a technician at the Bolinas Marin Station at $400 per month through June.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy was absent.

Gemini Capsule Test Perfect

EL CENTRO (AP)—The Air Force says a test of the Gemini space capsule recovery system brought the capsule in for a perfect landing in a test conducted here.

The two-man capsule—testing systems for future manned moon flights — is expected to orbit the earth and then drop back into the earth's atmosphere and be parachuted to a landing.

In tests conducted yesterday an unmanned Gemini capsule was dropped from a plane at 33,000 feet. A stabilizing parachute opened at 27,000 feet and at 10,000 feet the big main chute opened to bring the capsule in.

Two Prison Camp Escapers Caught

Two San Quentin Prison conservation camp inmates who walked away from the High Rock camp near Weott Wednesday night have been recaptured by Humboldt County sheriff's deputies in nearby Rio Dell, San Quentin Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

The escapees were identified as John T. Davies, 26, serving five years to life for first degree burglary in Los Angeles County, and William O. Fox, 23, doing six months to 15 years for second degree burglary, in Los Angeles County.

'65 Corvair by Chevrolet

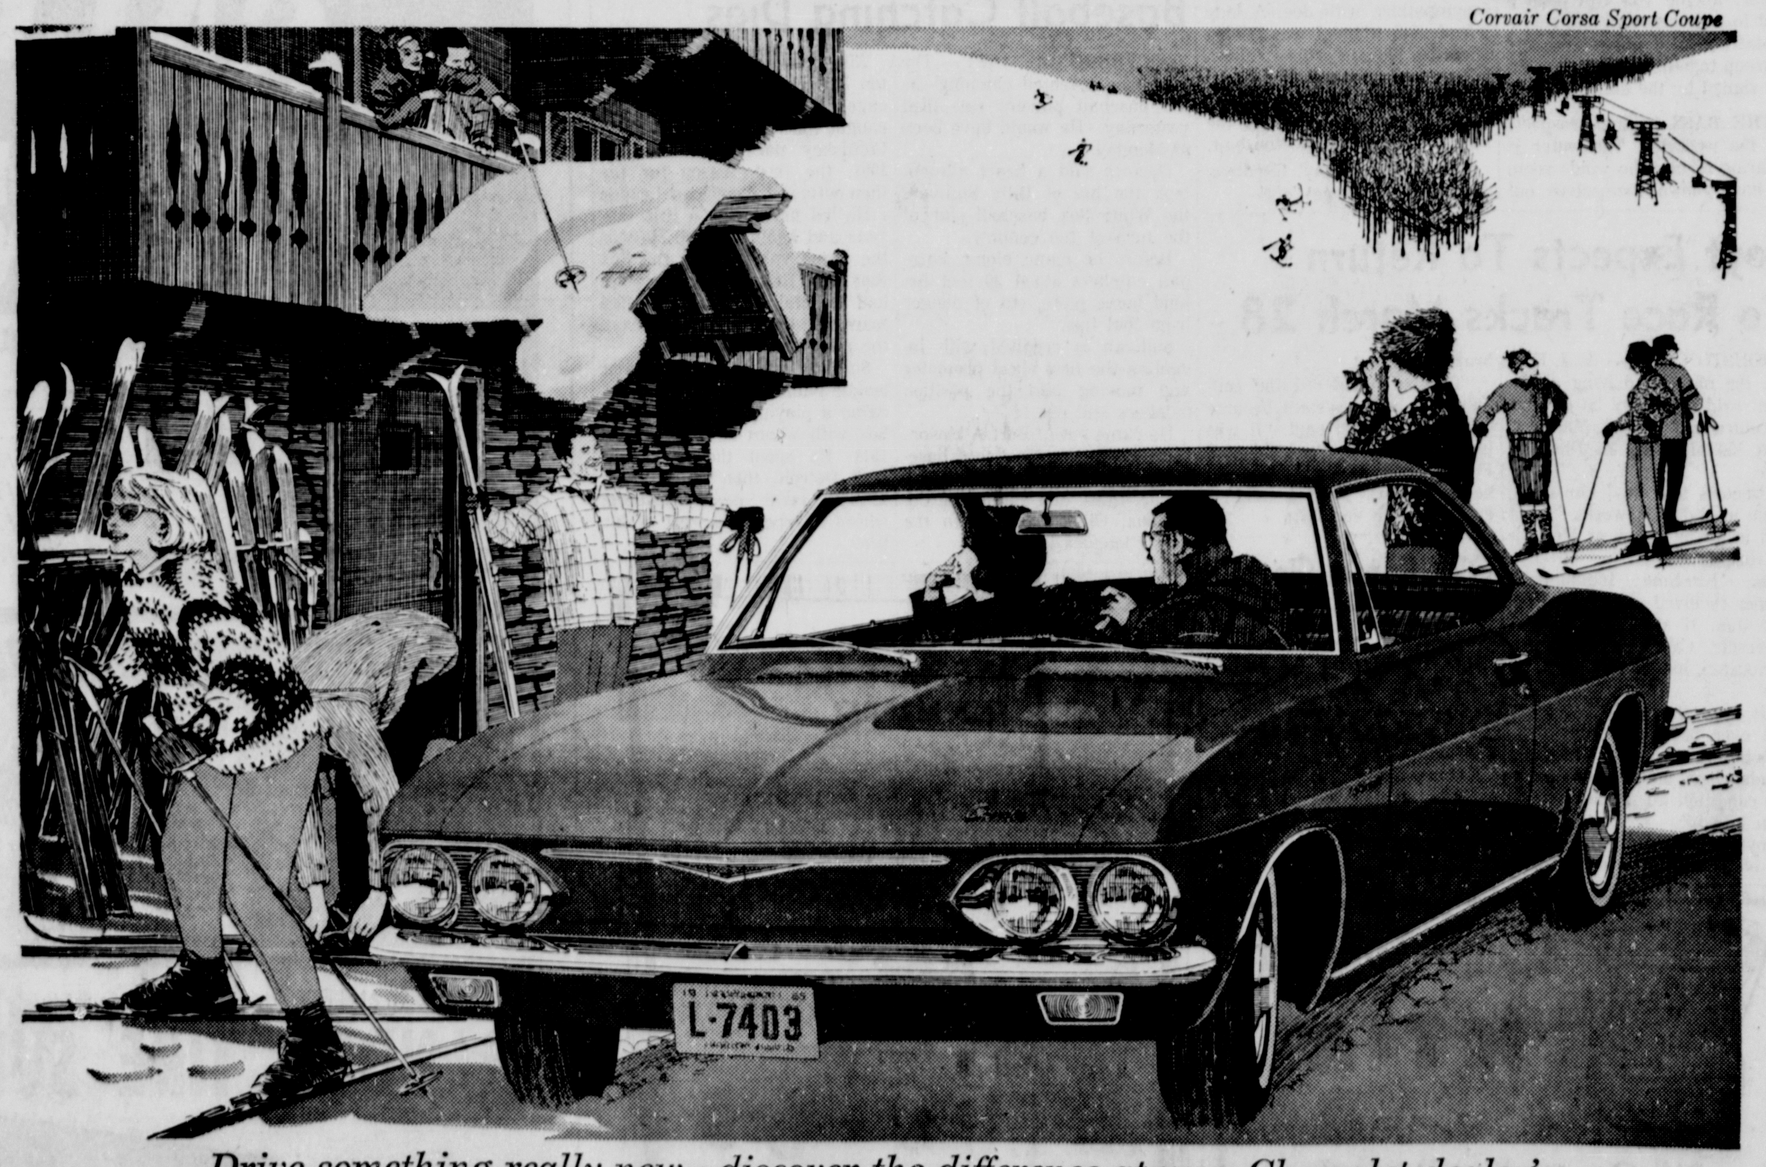

Corvair's engine won't freeze. Or boil over.
It can't.
It's air-cooled. It has no radiator. So there's no place for water or antifreeze.
Corvair hasn't much use for snow tires either. The weight of its engine over its rear wheels gives it built-in traction.
Nor has it much use for power steering. The engine weight off its front wheels gives it built-in handling ease.

And Corvair is the only American car, besides the Corvette Sting Ray, that has 4-wheel independent suspension.
The Corvair Corsa is the only American car you can order with a six-cylinder engine as powerful as a lot of eights—a 180-hp.
In fact, it's the only car in the world available with a factory-installed supercharged engine.

And Corvair is not only different from other cars, it's different from any other Corvair ever built.
This year it's completely restyled. With soft vinyls. Thick carpeting. A roomier interior. And a touch of the continent in its design.
We're proud we can show you a car that stands out from the rest.
It makes us stand out a little, too.

CHALLENGE TO WOMEN

Coed Dreams Change

Fifth in a series articles based on the weekend symposium "The Challenge to Women: The Biologic Avalanche," presented by the University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco Medical Center.

By BARBARA HOSMER

The coed of today views the suburban dream world of the generation over 30 as a ticky-tacky world of conformity and monotony—

"I don't want to get trapped there," they state.

Sociologist Dr. Gail Jackson Putney of San Jose State College continued her catalogue of this ticky-tacky rebellion by comparing the dreams and aspirations of the college girl today with those half a generation ahead.

THESE DREAMS and expectations of the young women now entering the age of marriage and maternity will be vital factors in the rate of population growth and pattern of family life in the next decade, Dr. Putney contends.

The goal of a "suburban home with a large lawn on which numerous well-dressed children play" was the common dream of the generation of women now busily rearing children in the suburbs of America, she said.

Children of the depression, the current generation of mothers hoped for affluence and a large family, and have to a great extent found it, she stated. "The large families of recent years . . . reflect the dream of a generation of little girls. Happiness for them was a large, mother-center family that need not scrimp.

"THE FACT THAT happiness eluded many of these women in spite of their large families and affluent husbands is not lost on the girls now entering child-bearing years."

Dr. Putney pointed out that though the girls now turning 20 are only about half of the generation distance from the suburban matrons in their mid-30s, they were raised in different world.

"They are not the daughters of depression. They are the daughters of affluence and war . . . the atomic age was born with them . . . Not the threat of poverty but of extinction hangs over them.

"HOW DIFFERENT from the suburban matron with her brood is the girl of 20 who told me, 'I would like to have children but I feel this would be selfish. The world is so full of misery that it is hardly fair to bring children into it for my own enjoyment,'" Dr. Putney related.

Pointing out that her information was taken from 19 to 21 year old college girls from middle-class families in urban areas of California, Dr. Putney said that most of them said that they knew little about the "real world" until they came to college.

SHE SAID THAT not only were the tract houses alike but that the size of the mortgage acted as an economic sieve and suburban conditions also led to an age screening, and of course, that "racial barriers around the lily-white suburbs are notorious."

"The children who are raised in these suburbs see only people who are like them, the same class, color, with parents the same age making payments on interchangeable houses and cars. The rest of the world seems a little unreal —something they drive past on the freeway.

"They are raised on a social island where nobody ever goes hungry and nobody ever grows old," she stated.

TEEN-AGE DRINKING

Schools Can Aid With Data On Alcohol

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of five dispatches on teen-age drinking.

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — In Michigan, if a minor is convicted of transporting liquor in an automobile, the auto is impounded for not less than 15 days nor more than 30.

That's one way of curbing teen-age drinking. With a one-car family, the lesson sinks in —especially if dad must share in the punishment, walking to the store, taking the bus to work.

Other laws in other states aim to punish the minor who purchases or attempts to purchase liquor. Such a law, passed in Pennsylvania in 1963, imposes penalties — a fine of $25 to $100 or a jail sentence, 30 days, or both.

Members of the licensed beverage industries helped to put the laws on the books. The biggest thorn in their side — purchase by minors.

BEGIN OWN SYSTEMS

In many parts of the country, liquor licensees have initiated their own system of identification cards, with the support and approval of law enforcement authorities in many instances.

In Rockland County, N.Y., for example, identification cards include a photograph. The card isn't issued until the age of 18, based on a birth or baptismal certificate, has been certified by a notary public.

Rockland County Liquor Dealers Association members have agreed not to sell anyone who cannot present this identification card.

But solving the problem of teen-age drinking isn't as simple as providing identification cards to keep them from illegally purchasing alcoholic beverages.

Alcohol education also must be improved an strengthened in the opinion of many authorities. The preferred time for this: In junior high school — before the children have had time to drink just because "all the kids are doing it."

Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, told United Press International:

"Every young person has ultimately to make his own decision whether to drink or not. It is the business of the schools to give him the data on which he will base the decision.

"He should receive sound, scientific information about the effects of drinking and the dangers of alcoholism. This information should be bolstered by good example.

"Safety factors should be stressed. Since most young people drive cars, they must be warned that alcohol slows reflexes and impairs judgment."

Mrs. Moorhead, an educator from Eugene, Ore., maintains that parents must share the responsibility —and more.

"They must make sure their children know the facts, and they must make sensible rules for their children in the matter of drinking. Parental examples of sound attitudes and value are all-important."

It doesn't mean the parents must drink in secret.

PROTECT YOUNG PEOPLE

"Thousands of American families are able to serve liquor in moderation to adults in their homes and yet protect their young people from the dangers involved in the misuse of alcohol."

"Some fathers think nothing of driving if they have had a drink but are horrified at the thought of their sons doing so," A. D. Buchmueller, executive director of the Child Study Association of America said.

On the matter of teen-age drinking, Buchmueller maintains that each family must work out the solution for itself.

"Families differ in their cultural patterns and teen-agers differ in their ability to handle social situations at a given age," he said.

"Some parents feel it is all right for the college age youngster to have a drink at home; they believe it is better for young adults to learn to make use of drinking socially, without abusing it, in their own homes rather than to indulge behind their parents' backs.

"On the other hand, there are families who believe that at no time should liquor be served to young people. Not the least of their considerations is the flouting of existing alcoholic beverage control laws."

AVOID SERVING ALCOHOL

Buchmueller believes it is better simply to avoid serving alcoholic beverages at young people's gatherings.

"Parents will do well to exert both common sense and self-control in their own social lives," he added.

Speaking for the schools, Carl A. Troester Jr., executive secretary of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, a department of the National Education Association in Washington, said:

"Teen-agers want to be adults and they want to be treated like adults. This is part of the reason why something like half of all high school age youngsters take at least an occasional drink — and why this figure is increasing. They need help in learning the responsibilities of adulthood and we can help in many ways."

NEED EDUCATION

Troester said they need appealing, honest health education programs that help them understand the physical and psychological imbalances created by alcohol — and to understand their responsibilities for their own lives and the lives of others when they drive.

"They need help in understanding the actual physiological effects of drinking," he said. "This is one thing the ads don't tell them."

The motivitational potentials of sports, he suggested, ought to be utilized fully in educating young people to refrain from drinking during the growing years.

"Tragedies don't need to happen in order to teach a lesson," he said. "Boys and girls learn vicariously every day.

CHALLENGE

dren confined to it—"I want my children to know more about life than I did," said one, Dr. Putney said. "I want to expose my children to as broad a world as possible," said another.

SHE SAID THAT a few expressed the fear that being only wife and mother would be boring, but most felt it would be challenging. Most agreed that their babies would be the focus of their lives.

"They look forward to babies that will be completely dependent on their adoring mothers," Dr. Putney stated.

Several agreed with one girl who said, "I want children who will have energy and desire for living, capable of deciding moral questions and sticking with their convictions . . . I want my child to be able to stand up against society if necessary," Dr. Putney reported, adding "How different from the dream children of the older generation of mothers who hope their offspring will fit in and be successful."

BUT, DR. PUTNEY added, the mother who never recognizes her responsibility to let her children lead their own lives will reap what will seem a bitter reward and the years when her children approach adulthood will be stormy.

"Also a woman who defines herself only in terms of a mother may find herself cut off from a meaningful role in life. . . . Drawing the fine line between protecting and smothering a child is one of the most difficult and least expected responsibilities of motherhood," Dr. Putney concluded.

TOMORROW: "Crucial Questions and the Mass Attack."

Dean Of Men Will Address Parents Club On Thursday

"Creative Growth of Children" is the subject chosen by Howard Slatoff to address the Sleepy Hollow Parents Club Thursday, at 8 p.m., in the multi-purpose room of the school.

Slatoff is dean of men and associate dean of students at California State College in Hayward. He is also an associate professor of Art at the Hayward campus.

The program will also include a representative display of art work from the Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley Schools. Slatoff will discuss these creations specifically, in addition to his more formal talk, in which he will emphasize the positive relation between children's exposure to art and their visual awareness of beauty in the world about them as adults.

Mrs. John Morrison will preside at the meeting, and the speaker will be introduced by Richard Kreuzer. Mrs. Robert Barnecut made arrangements for the exhibition of students' art work, and Mrs. Joseph Edelstein arranged for the speaker. The program will be preceded by refreshments at 7:45 p.m.

New Flower Arrangement Course Set

Design in flower arrangement, as the single most important factor, will be emphasized in a new course in flower arrangement to be taught by Mrs. Robert Tuckey at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

The series of six lessons will be held on successive Mondays beginning Monday at the clubhouse from 1 to 3 p.m. and will be limited to 20 students.

Sponsored by the garden section of the club, the course will be a workshop as well as lecture, with students bringing their own plant materials, containers and mechanics.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Cletus Fitzharris, 1235 Grand Avenue, San Rafael. The course is limited to club members, although a waiting list of guests will be held if openings occur.

'What's New' Topic Of Fairfax Speaker

William Grant will speak on "What's New At The Market Place" at the 1:30 p.m., Tuesday meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club.

Mrs. Thelma Buchignani of San Anselmo, chairman for the month, will be assisted by Mesdames Robert Roy, Charles D. McLain and Leah Jarrett.

Guests will be welcome at the meeting and program.

Today is Friday, Jan. 29, the 29th day of 1965 with 336 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

President William McKinley was born on this day in 1843.

On this day in history:

In 1861, Kansas entered the Union as the 34th state.

In 1900, baseball's American League was organized in Philadelphia.

In 1963, France vetoed further talks on Britain's entry into the European Common Market, a move which, in effect, rejected the British application.

In 1964, the United States launched an unmanned Saturn rocket which crash-landed on the moon four days later

A thought for the day — Sir Winston Churchill said: "Dictators ride to and fro upon tigers which they dare not dismount. And the tigers are getting hungry."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Noble Bridge Play Might Help Improve Character

A certain kind of defensive play may work for you only if declarer has made a mistake. If you are a noble character you won't take advantage of a mistake, of course.

This column is written for players of doubtful nobility.

Opening lead — ♠ J

South wins the first trick with the king of spades, counts seven tricks in top cards and sees that a successful heart finesse will give him the contract.

BAD PLAY

Many a declarer would promptly lead the jack of hearts for a finesse. This is a bad play, of course, and since none of us has even make a mistake we can all cluck our tongues disapprovingly.

East should play his lowest heart on the first finesse. Mind you, East should not "refuse" the trick.

He should just play his lowest heart without giving the trick any thought at all.

RULE COVERS

There is a rule to cover all such situations. When declarer tries a repeatable finesse, don't win until he repeats it. Don't think about it; just play low the first time.

If South falls into the trap he will lead another heart to repeat his finesse. This time East takes the king of hearts and returns a heart to dummy's ace.

Now the defenders can get three hearts and two diamonds to defeat the contract.

SCRAMBLE OUT

South might scramble out of the trap if he switched to the lowest diamond in his hand after winning the first heart finesse.

West would have to step up with the king of diamonds and lead his other heart to defeat the contract. This is a difficult defense.

Declarer is sure of his contract if he leads the queen of diamonds after winning the opening spade lead. He can safely set up a diamond trick and take the heart finesse later.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Magnificent Yankee' Fragile Pleasure

By RICK DUBROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Two of the theater's heavyweights, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, showed up last night in an NBC-TV play better suited to the featherweight class, "The Magnificent Yankee," adapted from the Broadway original. The 90-minute "Hall of Fame" special centered on the love story of Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and his wife Fanny.

It is always a pleasure to see the Lunts in action, for there is something undeniably intoxicating about indestructibility, even if it is sometimes over-rated. And their presence gave frequent amiability to last night's endeavor. Yet the adaptation presented to televiewers was hardly in the indestructible league, being rather like a piece of faded old chintz, sweet-smelling, fragile and obviously perishable.

Last night's work, described as an "affectionate dramatic tribute" to Holmes was surely affectionate and a tribute, but yielded little drama, and for that matter even the love story was rather conventionally drawn in the coy romantic way of the old-fashioned stage. The "Hall of Fame" has done — and will do — much better.

The story began with the arrival of Holmes and Fanny in Washington in 1902, when he was 61, and, in a series of episodic and fragmentary sequences, ended three decades later, after Fanny's death. In the final scene, Holmes, retired from the bench, is visited by Franklin D. Roosevelt on his inauguration day.

Throughout the television play, one kept waiting for something to happen. The only moments that stirred any sort of juices concerned Holmes' backing of Louis Brandeis, a Jew, for the position of Supreme Court justice — but even these moments were lacking in real dynamism.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV will present eight pre-season National Football League games in August and September ... the same network, on seven Saturdays from May to July, will also offer a professional tennis tournament which hopefully will include eight stars in elimination competition.

Money Is Sent To Flood School

Pupils and teachers in San Rafael Elementary School District have collected $839.81 for Klamath School destroyed by the Christmas week floods.

A check in that amount was mailed to the superintendent of the school Wednesday.

Schools throughout Marin County have been engaged in a drive for school supplies and equipment to help put the Klamath school back in operation. The San Rafael pupils, thinking money would be of most use, decided to pass the hat.

Sausalito's Tiniest Park Due Planters

Benches, a fence and planter boxes are being erected at Sausalito Foundation Park this week.

The park, probably the city's tiniest, is between Ondine parking lot and the Glad Hand restaurant on Bridgeway. It is built over water on a 50-by-25 foot boardwalk.

The Sausalito Foundation is paying for the park. Plants are to be placed in it next week by Cal-Landscapes, Novato.

The foundation is also responsible for planting 140 shrubs between Johnson and Napa streets and 75 to 100 trees from Napa to Wateree streets. Cost of the park and planting is $4,000, according to Mrs. Jan Paul Dyk, enhancement chairman of the Sausalito Woman's Club. Trees along the property of A. G. Schoonmaker on Bridgeway are being donated by Schoonmaker.

When the bridgeway project is completed, said Mrs. Dyk, the woman's club will initiate planting of 20 trees in the Caledonia Street business section at club expense.

MARIN FILM FARE

Inter-racial Marriage Is Subject Of Fairfax Movie

By LES DARD

Here is a look at Marin screens:

FAIRFAX THEATER

An inter-racial romance and marriage is the sensitive subject of the unusual film, "One Potato, Two Potato," now showing.

In a small Ohio town a young divorcee moves in with her small daughter and finds a sympathetic friend in a Negro co-worker in her office. Friendship deepens into love.

When marriage is indicated, it is passionately opposed by his family. Interestingly, there is no outrage in the white community. The couple wed, and go to live on his parents' farm.

The film stars Barbara Barie as the mother, and Bernie Hamilton as the Negro husband.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"The Americanization of Emily," now showing, is a satire that is sometimes hilarious, sometimes quite pathetic.

It tells the story of a dedicated coward during World War II, a man who outspokenly avoids being a hero but is ironically cast in that role.

Convinced somehow that Congress plans to scrap the Navy, a hare-brained admiral in London decides they will be impressed if a sailor is "the first dead man on Omaha Beach."

James Garner, his aide, gets the job.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Outrage" starts Sunday, starring Paul Newman, Claire Bloom and Laurence Harvey—an unusual entry for adults.

The film is based on the celebrated Japanese picture "Rashomon" (1951) which later became a play. It is now in fresh film form, updated and moved to the American southwest.

The story revolves around the trial of a Mexican bandit (Newman), who waylaid a traveling southern gentleman (Harvey) and his beautiful wife. He rapes the wife as the husband watches. The husband is later killed, a knife in his chest.

We see the film in flashbacks, and hear conflicting versions.

The co-feature is the third filming of Somerset Maugham's emotional novel, "Of Human Bondage." This time the lead role goes to Kim Novak.

101 DRIVE-IN

"Where Love Has Gone" opens tonight.

It is the story of a wealthy San Francisco family and the dowager who rules it with an iron hand. Bette Davis plays that dowager, Susan Hayward, her married daughter.

As the picture opens, Miss Hayward's teen-age daughter, Joey Heatherton has been accused of murdering her mother's lover.

The matriarch, Bette Davis, gets blamed for all the troubles, so she sets out to destroy her daughter's marriage, and succeeds.

Strictly adult fare.

NOVATO THEATER

Stunning entertainment starts Sunday in "Cleopatra," easily the most lavish film ever made. A spectacular, yes, but not in the sense of fakery. Liz Taylor graces the title role.

It is the story of the ancient Egyptian queen and her dependencies on Rome, both political and romantic.

Cleo's first alliance is with Caesar, played by Rex Harrison, who gives the role depth and consistency.

Then, in the second half of the film, Richard Burton stars as Antony, more lover than hero—an exciting performance.

RAFAEL THEATER

James Bond — Secret Agent 007, that is—stays with us another week in his latest "Goldfinger."

The villain, Auric Goldfinger plans to blow up the gold in Fort Knox, and it's up to Bond to stop him.

Sean Connery as Bond goes through innumerable hazards to thwart this evil genius. Meanwhile, he's surrounded by beautiful girls — Honor Blackman, Shirley Eaton and Tania Miller.

The Motor Movies Drive-In will be closed this weekend.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

James Garner and Steve McQueen head the all-male cast of "The Great Escape."

The picture is excellent.

British and American prisoners do their best to keep the Nazis busy with elaborate escape plans.

LARK THEATER

Held over again is the delightful French spoof, "That Man from Rio," which stars Jean Paul Belmondo in an almost "Mad, Mad" chase from Paris to Rio to Brasilia.

His fiancee is kidnaped when a priceless South American figurine is stolen from a Paris museum. The girl knows that the idol is the key to a buried treasure."

Belmondo, a soldier on a week's leave, starts in pursuit. When not running for miles on end, the young swain is swimming, scaling incredible heights, stealing bicycles, cars, planes, or whatever comes to hand to move him along.

Audiences of all ages are enjoying this offering.

Jazz Concert Will Benefit School Theater

Professional musicians and graduates will add their talents to those of the students for the annual Sir Francis Drake High School jazz concert on Feb. 11 in the school's little theater.

The Drake band, which has been practicing all year for the event, will be supplemented by five professionals and three Drake graduates because of a shortage of Drake musicians. Two trumpet players, a drummer, and a pianist have been hired, announced Perry Smith, bandmaster.

Band soloists will be Bruce Saxton, Greg Elberg, Mike Peet, and Jeff Cross. The band will accompany Richard Castleman in a vocal solo.

Drake Junior Class To Sponsor Dance

The Sir Francis Drake Junior Class will sponsor a school dance in the girls' gymnasium at 9 p.m. tomorrow. Theme of the dance will be "End of the Semester." Music will be by the VIP's, a band with four Drake students. Committee chairmen are Helen Wagnes and Sherri Worth, decorations; Rich Condit and Suzy Hoffman, cleanup; Barbara Manuel, publicity; Linda Brown, entertainment.

Bay Danger Zone Declared

A temporary danger zone has been declared in San Pablo Bay between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Feb. 10, the Army Corps of Engineers announced yesterday.

The zone will be used by patrol boats of the Coast Guard port security unit at Alameda Coast Guard Station for target practice and test firing of 30 caliber machine guns, 12th Coast Guard Dstrict headquarters said.

The danger zone is north of the Pinole Shoal Channel extending approximately between the mouths of the Petaluma River and the Sonoma Creek. All mariners are requested to avoid the area, the corps said. The area will be patrolled during the exercise.

Marinite Joins New Citizen Unit

Robert D. Weinmann of San Rafael, president of the Marin Coordinating Council of California Republican Assembly, is a charter member of a new conservative group that has incorporated in California.

The organization, to be known as Citizens for Constructive Action, includes leaders of the 1964 Goldwater campaign and members of the right-wing United Republicans of California.

The group has no connection with the "third political party" movement launched yesterday by Fred Ullner of Larkspur.

Weinmann, the only Marin County resident among the charter members, said the new group is not a political party.

"We will take stands on issues, but on a non-partisan basis," said Weinmann. "We plan to work with both Republicans and Democrats."

He said the group hopes to establish "Americanism centers."

Walter Knott, founder of Knott's Berry Farm in Orange County, is president.

Hospital Tour

A tour of Napa State Hospital will be sponsored Tuesday by the Marin Assn. for Mental Health. The plan is to leave San Rafael at 9 a.m. and return from Napa at 4 p.m.

Small automobiles overturn more frequently than standard cars and younger drivers are involved in roll-over accidents more often than older drivers regardless of car size.
